Ike Denounces Contention U.S. Prestige Wanes

President Hits Out At Kennedy In 'Frisco Talk

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—President Eisenhower, hitting apparently at Sen. John F. Kennedy, Thursday night denounced those who contend that America's prestige has slumped to an all-time low. The President called this debasement of the truth.

Eisenhower, without mentioning the Democratic presidential nominee by name, also termed this an "irresponsible practice of defacing the American portrait." The President added that related to this is "the development of an almost compulsive desire to make counterfeit comparisons, especially between our nation and others."

Kennedy has been contending that United States prestige has deteriorated during the Eisenhower administration. He also has asserted in his campaign that the Soviet Union's rate of economic growth is moving at a swifter pace than that of this country.

250,000 Greet Ike

Eisenhower is on a cross-country speaking tour which the White House has labeled nonpolitical. Thursday, however, there could be virtually no doubt that the President was hitting out at Kennedy.

Eisenhower arrived by plane at midday from Palm Springs, Calif., and got a rousing welcome to San Francisco from a crowd which Mayor George Christopher estimated at 250,000 or more.

At the airport, California's Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown told Eisenhower not to do "too much for Mr. Nixon" on this trip.

Smilingly referring then to the Republican presidential candidate, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Eisenhower replied: "This is a nonpolitical tour, but I'll do all I can to see that Nixon is elected."

"Don't Be Misled," Ike Says

In his speech, prepared for a dinner meeting of San Francisco's Commonwealth Club, Eisenhower said Americans must not be afraid to look at themselves and maintain a steady critical self-examination.

Then he cut loose, saying: "But while maintaining a healthy critical insight, let us not be misled by those who, inexplicably, seem so fond of deprecating the standing, condition and performance of the entire nation."

"Surely we must avoid smugness and complacency. But when

Khrush Claims USSR Also Has Missile A-Subs

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev said Thursday the Soviet Union, like the United States, has rocket-carrying nuclear submarines. He warned against any American underseas patrol near Soviet shores, calling this a brink-of-war policy.

Khrushchev made his first public challenge to U.S. claims of a monopoly in nuclear submarine construction near the end of a wide-ranging, two-hour and 20-minute speech before 15,000 cheering Muscovites packed into Luzhniki Stadium.

It was his first address since he returned last Friday from his desk-pounding visit to the U.N. General Assembly in New York.

The premier assailed colonialism, militarism and brinkmanship, all of which he blamed solely on the West.

He declared the question of divided Germany must be solved in 1961 and proposed a summit meeting after the American presidential elections to tackle that and the Berlin problem. He said: "Good sense must prevail. A peace treaty must be concluded."

He described the current U.N. assembly session as perhaps the most important since the United Nations was formed 15 years ago, and said it was worthwhile and necessary for him to attend.

He suggested chiefs of state and government should take part regularly in the assembly's work and called for an extraordinary session next March and April to seek an agreement in principle on "general and complete disarmament."

He called disarmament "the hub of all vital problems of our time" and said Soviet proposals on that subject are completely realistic. He denounced Western proposals before the U.N. General Assembly as designed to cover up an arms race policy and said they are an "ill omen for the future."

Although his proposals met little favor in New York, he reiterated that the United Nations must be revamped to reflect what he called the new balance of forces between communism, capitalism and neutralism.

He again denounced U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold as a servant of "U.S. monopoly capital" and called anew for ihs replacement with a three-man secretariat.

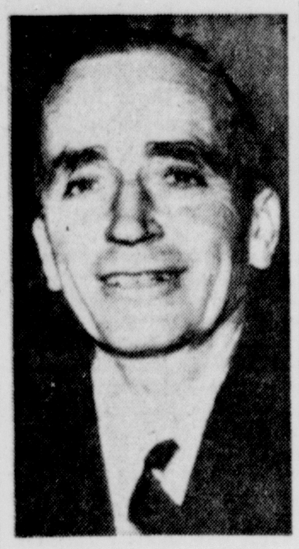

U.S. Insignia Put On Cuban Planes

HAVANA (AP) — Diplomatic sources said Thursday they had information that five twin-engine Cuban air force transport planes were painted with U.S. insignia at the nearby San Antonio de Los Banos air base for unexplained reasons.

These sources said they believe the Castro regime may be planning to use the aircraft in some venture to embarrass the U.S. government.

The planes are of a type used by many countries in the Caribbean area and are similar to those involved in previous invasion sorties both here and in the Dominican Republic.

Before the insignia were painted on, families were removed from houses bordering the base, it was reported.

Kennedy Says Cuba Sanctions Too Little, Late

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy said Thursday night that the Eisenhower administration's economic sanctions against Cuba came too little and too late in the "incredible history of blunder, inaction, retreat and failure."

And the Democratic nominee for president pinned this action directly on his Republican opponent, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, rather than on the administration itself. In a blistering statement, Kennedy said the Communists took over Cuba as a result of the vice president's having seen another wrong there and having made no recommendations for action.

It was the second statement of the day in which Kennedy went gunning for Nixon with strong language. He got out an earlier one contending that the vice president, not Kennedy, is injecting glaring errors, slurs, distortions—and even repetition of a Communist argument—into the presidential campaign.

Nixon, Kennedy said, repeats the Communist argument that only during a wartime economy has this country got rid of unemployment.

The latest statement was aimed at the administration's decision to cut off all exports to Cuba except medicines, medical supplies and a restricted list of foods, backed by restrictions on selling or chartering boats or ships to Cuba.

The action followed Nixon's speech to the American Legion convention in Miami, Fla., Tuesday in which he said the time had arrived for a quarantine of the Castro government and the strongest possible economic steps against that regime.

Kennedy indicted all this in one long sentence: "After doing nothing for six years while the condition that gave rise to communism grew—after ignoring the repeated warning of our ambassadors that the Communists were about to take over Cuba—after standing helplessly by while the Russians established a new satellite only 90 miles from American shores, Mr. Nixon and the Republicans after two years of inaction since Castro took power, now attempt to make up for this incredible history of blunder, inaction, retreat and failure, by cutting off several million dollars worth of exports in a move which will have virtually no effect by itself in removing Communist rule from Cuba."

Speculation Boosts Gold Price Abroad

Treasury Denies Reports U.S. May Devalue Dollar

By The Associated Press

Feverish speculation gripped the world's bullion markets Thursday with the dollar price of gold soaring as investors rushed to unload their stocks of American dollars.

On the London market—pacesetter for world exchanges—a top price of 290 shillings—$40.60—per ounce was reported in the last minutes of trading. This was a gain of $5.18 an ounce for the day.

The official U.S. Treasury price is $35 per fine troy ounce.

Speculation that the United States might devalue the dollar by raising the gold price appeared to be one of the chief reasons for the sharp rise in the price of gold. These reports brought a formal and flat denial from the U.S. Treasury.

Runs On Supplies

It holds $18.5 billion of the metal. If the high price holds in London, foreign central banks could demand American-held gold for their dollar assets and transfer still more of it to European hands. So far this year $873 million has been taken.

Prices of gold soared in other markets where trading is permitted—it isn't in the United States.

In Frankfurt, Germany, the Degussa Co., main supplier of the metal, ran out and the big three German private banks suspended sales at noon with the price at $37.68 per ounce. Sales are expected to resume Friday.

Buyers in Zurich, Switzerland, paid $38 an ounce. London bankers had held that the big rush to buy gold this week was sparked by Swiss banks seeking to turn dollar holdings into the metal. Swiss banking circles said this was a minor factor. They contended the movement started in Britain and claimed to be mystified as to the reason, beyond worries over the strength of the dollar following gold losses in the United States and speculation about devaluation.

Gold Stocks Rise

Stock prices of gold-producing companies rose sharply on exchanges in New York, Toronto, Montreal, London, Frankfurt, and Johannesburg, South Africa. In the African gold center, buyers skipped lunch in their frantic scramble for favorite gold shares. In New York, gold share prices eased in the afternoon from their morning highs.

In Toronto the price of gold bars quickly jumped to $39 an ounce with brokers reporting a flood of American orders.

Katanga President Charges U.N. Looting

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—President Moise Tshombe of Katanga Thursday accused United Nations forces in northern Katanga of "scandalous behavior." He claimed six U.N. soldiers had been caught looting European houses in Kabalo.

Tshombe called in newsmen after a two-hour meeting with U.N. officials and reeled off a lengthy list of accusations.

U.N. officials—Ian Berendsen, senior U.N. official in Katanga, and his assistant, Pierre Chevalier—said they could not comment on the accusations.

"This is the first time we have heard of them," Chevalier said. "We are immediately contacting our forces in Kabalo. Until we have heard from them we can say nothing."

Heller, now a salesman at Sacramento, Calif., made a special trip to New York recently and sought an interview with Czech President Antonin Novotny during the U. N. meeting. He said the president scolded him for "defecting" but promised "you shall have your child." He kept his word and Vera flew in yesterday. At left is her step-mother, Norma. (AP Photofax)

$2 Billion Dip In GNP Annual Rate Reported

WASHINGTON (AP)—A dip of $2 billion in the annual rate of the nation's gross national product was reported Thursday for the July-September period, compared with the April-June quarter.

The Joint Congressional Economic Committee said the total of the nation's goods and services in the third quarter of this year ran at an annual rate of $503 billion compared with $505 billion in the second quarter.

Even so, the estimates, supplied by the President's Council of Economic Advisers, showed that the national economy was running about $21.6 billion ahead of the rate for the July-September quarter last year.

There was a dip of $6.5 billion in the gross economic rate between the second and third quarters of 1959, largely attributed to the steel strike.

The new estimates attracted wide attention because of charges and denials in the current national presidential campaign that the nation may be heading into a recession or leveling-off period.

Slight declines in consumer spending and private investments by business were mostly offset in the July-September period by increased government outlays.

Disposable personal income of consumers was estimated at a rate of $357.5 billion and consumer outlays at $328.5 billion with a resulting $29 billion in savings. The savings represented an increased rate of $4.8 billion over the March-June period.

Private investment by business was rated at $70.5 billion for the recent quarter and $75.5 billion for the second quarter. Government purchases of goods and services were at a rate of $100.5 billion for July-September as against $98.6 billion in the previous quarter.

Compensation of employes for the third quarter was at a rate of $297.2 billion compared with $295 billion in the March-June period.

Jupiter On Target In 1,500-Mile Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Jupiter missile, employing tactical ground support equipment for the first time, was launched successfully on a 1,500-mile flight Thursday.

Project officials reported the 60-foot rocket plunked its nose cone on target off the West Indies island of Antigua about 15 minutes after launch. It was the first Jupiter firing here in eight months.

Westinghouse, IUE In Accord

PITTSBURGH (AP) —Negotiators for the Westinghouse Electric Corp. and the International Union of Electrical Workers reached agreement on a new three-year contract Thursday.

Also coming to terms with Westinghouse on the same basic agreement were representatives of the Federation of Westinghouse Independent Salaried Unions.

Before the IUE contract can take effect, it must be approved by the IUE Westinghouse Conference Board and the union's 39,500 employes at 38 plants. The conference board is scheduled to meet Friday.

The agreement with the Federation is subject to approval by that union's executive council and its 15,000 members at 47 Westinghouse facilities.

The contracts grant wage increases and other benefits but do not include a cost-of-living escalator clause. The IUE had such a clause in its old five-year contract.

Reds Hit West Disarm Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Communist nations kept up their fire in the United Nations Thursday on Western disarmament proposals, echoing Soviet Premier Khrushchev's renewed charges that the United States and its allies are trying to stall progress toward East-West agreement.

Foreign Ministers Adam Rapacki of Poland and Vaclav David of Czechoslovakia, the two main speakers of the day in the 99-nation U.N. Political Committee, both accused the West of stepping up the arms race.

Rapacki proposed a special session of the U.N. General Assembly next spring if there is no agreement by then on a treaty to end tests of nuclear weapons.

This is the first time the Communists have suggested putting suspension of nuclear tests—the subject of long and continuing negotiations in Geneva—before a special session.

Both Rapacki and David appealed for unanimous support of a Soviet resolution containing Khrushchev's latest proposals for an international treaty on complete and general disarmament.

Nixon Would Extend Excise Tax, Cut Rates

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon Thursday outlined his blueprint for economic progress, featuring excise taxes on more commodities but at lower rates. He also urged creation of a national economic council.

He charged the Democrats with a "calculated campaign . . . to develop a national inferiority complex about our economy and other aspects of life in America."

The Republican presidential nominee called for "reform of our tax system to enhance personal incentives and speed the investment in new plants and equipment that makes jobs and spurs productivity."

He told the Association of Business Economists that it would be easier to call, as he said the Democrats do, for a tax program which would just reduce rates on the lower-income brackets. But he said the most simple and popular way is not "the right way for America."

Nixon said, "a tax system moving toward some revision in personal and corporate rates, reform in depreciation allowances, a broader base for excises at a rate well below those now in effect, and protection of state and municipal revenues . . . would contribute substantially to a better environment for economic growth.

"In this time of challenge to the American economy, taxes designed in an earlier time, and still in the law, to punish success are not only obsolete, they hobble the economy's advance."

A national economic council, Nixon said, would "coordinate in a better fashion the various government efforts bearing on the promotion of healthy economic growth." He said the council would be of the same stature as the National Security Council, adding that economic matters are related to national security "and there will be some overlapping."

Nixon told the 200 economists, meeting at New York University's Vanderbilt Auditorium, "I know that this is a nonpolitical organization. I would like to say that my speech is not political." But he said no address delivered by a candidate in a presidential campaign can be strictly nonpolitical.

Fourth Nixon-Kennedy Debate Tonight Limited To Hour, Probably Will Be Last

NEW YORK (AP)—The fourth and probably the last radio-television debate between the two major presidential candidates Friday night will be limited to one hour.

This was announced late Thursday after a conference between agents of the candidates and the networks.

The question grew out of Democratic nominee John F. Kennedy's proposal to hold a fifth debate as close to possible to the Nov. 8 election.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, his Republican opponent, turned Kennedy's proposal down, suggesting instead that Friday's final debate be extended by one hour, and that viewers be allowed to telephone in questions.

After Thursday's conference, it was announced: "It became clear that, in the time involved, an acceptable program with public participation in the questioning of the candidates could not be developed. It was agreed that on Friday night the program should be the one-hour program on foreign affairs as originally planned in August."

The debate will go on the air at 9 p.m. Eastern Standard Time from the American Broadcasting Co.'s TV center on W. 66th Street, largest studio in the city. It also will be broadcast and televised by NBC and CBS, and broadcast by the Mutual network.

Thursday's announcement of the conference also said: "Representatives of the candidates will give further consideration to a type of format which would allow public participation in the questioning."

This seemed to leave the door open for a possible fifth debate. However, a Kennedy spokesman said Nixon's representative still is opposed to a fifth debate and that no date for any further discussion of the matter is set.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger, speaking for Kennedy, added that the Massachusetts senator will make a final effort, probably Friday, to get Nixon to accede to a fifth debate, by telegraphing the vice president a formal challenge. However, Salinger held out little hope that Nixon would accept.

During the day, Kennedy needled Nixon for rejecting a fifth debate.

"It is an interesting fact that he is willing to debate with a mimeograph machine that permits only one side, but is unwilling to make his answers and charges in direct TV confrontation with 70 million people watching," Kennedy said.

Australian, Briton Share Nobel Prize In Medicine

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—The 1960 Nobel Prize for medicine was awarded Thursday to an Australian and a Briton for the discovery of acquired immunological tolerance—a discovery that has solved one of the major obstacles in transplanting tissues from one body to another.

The award winners are Sir Frank MacFarlane Burnet, director of the Walter and Eliza Hall Institute for Medical Research in Melbourne, Australia, and Dr. Peter Brian Medawar, professor of zoology and comparative anatomy, University College, London. They will share the prize, worth $43,627.

The two medical researchers have followed each other's work closely despite the fact that they have pursued their efforts at opposite ends of the earth.

Burnet, 61, in the 1940s advanced theories on how to approach the problem of transplantation of tissues from one body to another. Medawar, 45, heading a team of research workers in London, tested and confirmed Burnet's thesis.

The communique from the Caroline Institute said "the discovery of the tolerance phenomenon represents a major breakthrough in the field of immunology and has, indeed, opened a new chapter in experimental biology."

The work of the two men has laid open to attack several problems of great practical medical importance such as the grafting of skin to severely burned persons and the transplanting of organs to persons critically ill or injured.

No Date Set For Bonsal To Go Back

"Extended Period" Of Talks Scheduled; Follows Embargo

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Thursday recalled Ambassador Philip W. Bonsal from Havana "for an extended period of consultation." It said, "No date has been fixed for his return to Cuba."

The State Department announcement, a day after the United States slapped an embargo on most U.S. exports to Cuba, underlined that U.S.-Cuban relations are at a new low.

Officials said they do not intend to break diplomatic relations with the regime of left-wing Prime Minister Fidel Castro. But they left up in the air whether Bonsal or someone else might eventually be returned to the Havana post.

Castro has sent no ambassador to Washington since Ernesto Dihigo left last December. In Havana, the U.S. Embassy will be tended by the No. 2 American diplomat there, Minister-Counselor Daniel M. Braddock.

Bonsal Snubbed By Castro

U.S. sources said Bonsal, 57, had reached the point in Havana where his presence could do no more good at this time. The career diplomat, personally popular with many Latin Americans, has been cold shouldered by Cuban officials and repeatedly been insulted by Castro and his aides.

Bonsal, who first went to Havana in February 1959, returned to the United States for two months early this year after an especially virulent attack by Castro. He finally went back to Havana March 20 on the theory that he could tap whatever opportunities might remain for bettering U.S.-Cuban relations and could report to Washington on Cuban affairs.

The State Department announcement, issued by press officer Joseph W. Reap, left open the possibility Bonsal might never return to Havana.

Recall Discussed For Weeks

It is customary for career as well as noncareer ambassadors to submit their resignations to the incoming administration, which will take office in January. It will be up to the new administration to review the Cuban question and determine new ambassadorial assignments. Also, a two-year tour for Bonsal would be up in February.

Reap said it was just a coincidence that Bonsal's recall was announced on the heels of the embargo on U.S. exports to Cuba. He said the matter had been discussed with the ambassador for several weeks and the come-home instruction had been given him earlier this week.

Mobutu Regime Totters As U.N. Backs Kamitatu

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Patrice Lumumba's bid for power got a powerful boost from the United Nations Thursday while the military regime of Col. Joseph Mobutu tottered on the verge of collapse.

The United Nations openly gave its support to Cleophas Kamitatu, president of Leopoldville Province and one of Lumumba's chief backers. A 372-man U.N. unit bolstered Kamitatu's forces, which are in an open clash with Mobutu's ill-disciplined and crumbling army.

Kamitatu told Mobutu to bow to his authority or face expulsion from the capital. He threatened to take his populous and important Leopoldville Province out of rest of the Congo. He accused Mobutu's soldiers of maintaining a regime of bloodshed, terror and rape in the capital city.

Kamitatu has been one of the principal forces behind Lumumba who was ousted as premier by President Joseph Kasavubu. Kamitatu has never recognized Mobutu's authority as the Congo's military strongman.

Followed by 100 loyal officers, Mobutu sped to U.N. headquarters to plead for help for his pro-Western military regime which chased the Soviet and Red satellite missions from the Congo.

He emerged after a three-hour session, tearful, and said: "The United Nations wants me to get out."

Youth, 21, Confesses Slaying Of Elderly Widow Last August

Robbery Motive; Got Eight Cents

SEAT PLEASANT, Md. (AP)—Police Thursday night charged a 21-year-old Prince Georges County youth with the slaying of an elderly widow two months ago.

The murder charge was placed against William Bert Phipps, of Chillum Heights. Police said Phipps signed a statement admitting the slaying of Mrs. Grace M. Cochran, 70, of Riverdale, Md.

Lt. Earl J. Huber of Prince Georges County Police said robbery was the motive. He quoted Phipps as saying he got only eight cents from the dead woman's purse.

Anne Arundel County Police obtained a murder warrant against Phipps after he had been taken to a lonely wooded area near Gambrills where Mrs. Cochran's decomposed body was found Wednesday. The site is just across the line from Prince Georges County.

Investigators from both county police forces issued a joint statement at Prince Georges County headquarters Thursday night.

They said Phipps has been in custody on two other charges of assault with intent to rob two elderly women. He was arrested in Hyattsville Sept. 23 and was being held in lieu of $9,000 bail.

The police statement said the "modus operandi" (robbery of elderly women in the cases made Phipps a suspect in Mrs. Cochran's murder. Police said he was questioned for about an hour and a half this afternoon, then signed a statement admitting the slaying and reenacted the crime.

Lt. Huber quoted Phipps as saying he saw Mrs. Cochran in Riverdale on the night of Aug. 20, struck her on the back of the head and put her in his car. Huber said two weapons were involved, a tire iron and a hammer.

Lt. Elmer F. Hagner of the Anne Arundel County Police obtained the warrant against Phipps in Annapolis. He said it will be held against Phipps as a detainer pending the outcome of the other charges filed against him in Hyattsville.

Mrs. Cochran worked in a Washington apartment house as a switchboard operator.

Police, assisted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, had stepped up their efforts to find the killer after three relatives of Mrs. Cochran and her employer identified the body.

"We are in this to determine if there is a federal violation," said James J. Kelly, special agent in charge of the Baltimore FBI office.

Identification was made at the Baltimore City Morgue, through clothing and general physical build, by the victim's daughter, Mrs. Grace W. Henderson, 39, of Falls Church, Va.; a sister, Mrs. Minnie Glorius of Takoma Park, Md.; Mrs. Glorius' husband, Leo, and Mrs. Virginia Wise of Washington, manager of the apartment house where Mrs. Cochran worked and the last person to see her alive.

The body, clad in black shoes and the shreds of black underclothing and a black dress, was discovered Wednesday in this lonely, wooded area by a man who stopped to dig up a sapling for his yard.

Police Chief Wilbur Wade of Anne Arundel County said the slain woman was bound hand and foot with venetian-blind cord. One arm was missing. The unburied body was lightly covered with autumn leaves and brush.

A rusty claw hammer lay nearby. Dr. Russell S. Fisher, Maryland's chief medical examiner, said after an autopsy death was from a blow or blows on the head. The skull was fractured twice and perforated with a sharp instrument.

Also found nearby were a pink hat and a weather-beaten book on mortgage laws. Mrs. Cochran had been studying law and her name was still visible inside the front cover of the book. A Washington newspaper of the day she disappeared was with the book.

Turkey Parade Plan Protested

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — The Washington County chapter of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals cried "foul" Thursday when they learned that officials planned to have 150 turkeys march in the annual Hagerstown Mummer's Parade Oct. 29.

Mrs. Margaret Stickell, chapter chairman, protested to the Alsatian Club, a local men's social group in charge of the turkey part of the parade.

George Fisher, parade chairman, said a local poultry man had agreed to clip one wing from each turkey so they could take part in the 36th annual parade. Fisher denied any cruelty was involved.

He said Mrs. Stickell had threatened parade officials with warrants if they went ahead with the plan.

WHERE WOMAN'S BODY FOUND—Unidentified police sift the earth for evidence in the slaying of Mrs. Grace Cochran, 70, whose body was found Wednesday in a wooded area of Anne Arundel County, near Gambrills, Md. She had been missing since Aug. 20. Last night a 21-year-old youth was charged with the slaying. (AP Photofax)

22 More Negro Sit-Ins Jailed At Atlanta, Ga.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Negroes intensified their campaign to desegregate this Deep South city Thursday and 22 more of them went to jail to back up their demands.

Police also arrested a white man who squirted deodorant spray over the heads of Negro college students conducting a sit-in lunch counter demonstration at a variety store.

The Southern Christian Leadership Conference, a Negro organization, asked Mayor William B. Hartsfield to appoint a biracial committee to deal with the situation.

Hartsfield, out of the city and not available for comment, has rejected previous pleas for a committee. He said excellent lines of communication are already established between his office and the Negro community.

Among the 22 Negroes arrested was the Rev. A. D. Williams King, brother of Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. who is in jail awaiting trial on charges of violating Georgia's antitrespass law. M. L. King and 50 other Negroes and a white man were arrested Wednesday when the Negroes opened their current campaign for integrated lunch counters.

Thursday's demonstrators found many lunch counters closed. Others were shut down as fast as the Negroes appeared.

Nixon Leads Texas Absentee Vote

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—The Fort Worth Star-Telegram reported Thursday that Tarrant County — Fort Worth — citizens, marking ballots on opening day of absentee voting here for the Nov. 8 general election, showed a 76-52 preference for the Republican party ticket of Richard M. Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge.

That was the result of the Star-Telegram poll of the 136 voters who appeared at the county clerk's office to mark absentee ballots. The poll will be taken daily until close of absentee voting Nov. 4.

In nearby Dallas, the Dallas News interviewed 20 who voted absentee and showed the Democrats leading 11-9.

The absentee vote in 1956 in Tarrant County went Democratic 1,294; Republican 3,009, and others 32.

In 1952, Eisenhower scored 63,681 votes in the general election and Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic party presidential candidate, received 45,972 in Tarrant County.

Four years later, President Eisenhower polled 66,329 votes in Tarrant County. Stevenson got 43,922.

Nixon Is Anti-Tailcoat; Stirs Sartorial Tempest

NEW YORK (AP)—The men's formal clothing industry has all but split its seams over a proposal by Vice President Richard M. Nixon that the time-honored tailcoat be done away with.

"For shame!" cried a leading manufacturer.

"It's liable to defeat him completely—as far as our industry is concerned," declared another.

Nixon stirred the sartorial tempest Wednesday night when he ran into John F. Kennedy—his Senate colleague and presidential opponent—at a Waldorf - Astoria Hotel dinner. Kennedy was in a tuxedo and Nixon in the more formal tailcoat with stiff-fronted shirt and white tie.

Either was proper attire for the occasion, but as Kennedy spotted Nixon he greeted him with a "Hi, Dick" and then added: "I guess I'm not very well-dressed. I guessed wrong."

"Well, Jack," Nixon smilingly responded, "I'll make a deal with you. Whoever is elected president will abolish white ties. And these shirts ought to have zippers. It's agony."

In high formality, the term "white tie" refers to the entire tailcoat ensemble.

Sam Rudofker, whose firm claims to make 75 percent of the formal male attire in this country, fired off a hot telegram to Nixon.

"Here we are trying to encourage people to wear white tie and tails and last night you suggested abolishing same. For shame! Please say it isn't so," the wire said.

Washington Woman Sex-Slaying Victim

WASHINGTON (AP)—The body of a 50-year-old woman, sexually assaulted and beaten, was identified Thursday as that of Corrine Sullivan of Washington.

Her body, found early Thursday in an alley, was clad only in pajama tops and a raincoat. She was identified by her son, Jack L. Sullivan of Woodbridge, Va.

Police said she died of injuries that broke her ribs, caused rupture of a blood vessel near the heart, a rupture of the intestines and hemorrhage of the chest wall. Her face and mouth were bruised and swollen.

The body was discovered by John Tierney, 64, when, police said, he got out of his car to fix the windshield wipers. He saw the body lying on the ground between his car and the rear wall of a garage.

Ike Denounces

in the face of a bright record of progress and development, we hear some misguided people wail that the United States is stumbling into the status of a second-class power and that our prestige has slumped to an all-time low, we are simply listening to debasement of the truth.

"Related to this irresponsible practice of defacing the true American portrait, is the development of an almost compulsive desire to make counterfeit comparisons, especially between our nation and others."

As he did in a Detroit speech Monday, Eisenhower said because of differing backgrounds and situations, such comparisons rarely contain any validity.

New NYC Plea Made To B&O

BALTIMORE (AP) — President Alfred E. Perlman of the New York Central Railroad made another pitch to Baltimore and Ohio Railroad stockholders Thursday to vote for an affiliation with his line.

The Perlman appeal by mail received here today came exactly a week after a similar letter from President Walter J. Tohy of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, which also wants to merge with the B&O—but without the NYC.

This is not the first letter from either railroad president and both of them have come to Baltimore to make in-person appeals since the merger talk began last June.

Perlman wrote that the C&O "has seemingly not budged" from its earlier stand to seek stock control of the B&O, the nation's oldest railroad, instead of a merger.

"This approach tends to confuse you," he said, and "tends to throw roadblocks in a path of constructive efforts. No long preiod of negotiations are needed for a merger of the Central with the B&O. . .

"Within a few short months it will be possible to translate potential benefits into a concrete agreement which can be submitted to stockholders and the Interstate Commerce Commission."

The C&O has offered one share of C&O common stock for each share of B&O preferred, and one share of C&O common for each 1¾ shares of B&O common.

The NYC, making its proposition after that, offered 1½ shares of NYC common and $9 in cash for each share of B&O common. It made no offer for B&O preferred.

Both offers have been extended —the C&O to Nov. 30 and the NYC to Dec. 14.

Clara E. Rankin Heads Local Gold Star Mothers

The Tri State Gold Star Mothers elected officers and formulated plans for the installation at the meeting Wednesday evening at the American Legion Home.

Mrs. Clara E. Rankin was re-elected president. Other officers to serve with her are Mrs. Josephine Jankey, first vice president; Mrs. Josephine Shonski, second vice president; Mrs. Gladys Meeks, recording secretary; Mrs. Anna McDonald, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Sara Jane Miller, treasurer; Mrs. Elizabeth Willard, chaplain; Mrs. Johanna Weimer, custodian of the records; Mrs. Carrie Keel, sergeant at arms; Mrs. Elsie Haan, historian; Mrs. Virginia Murphy, flag guard, Mrs. Mabel Wade, banner guard, and Mrs. Meeks, musician.

Chairmen are Mrs. Millar, Americanism; Mrs. Murphy, hospital; Mrs. Loretta Beckman, membership; Mrs. Shanski, social; Mrs. McDonald, ways and means; Mrs. Bessie Hensel, associate ways and means; Mrs. Hensel and Mrs. Willard, annual dinner and associate; Mrs. Willard, welfare and floral; Mrs. Keel, Mrs. Shonski, Mrs. Wade and Mrs. Hensel, hospitality.

As an annual attendance at church service was instituted last year, Mrs. Wade invited the group to attend a service with her at Central Methodist Church, George Street, the date to be selected. The invitation was accepted.

Installation will be for friends and guests, and open to the public, so there will be no business session. It will be held November 16 at 8 p. m., and will be followed by a social hour. Mrs. McDonald, a past president, will officiate at the ceremony.

Routine reports were given and projects discussed.

Spring Zone Meetings Discussed

A discussion of whether to hold combined zone meetings in the spring and individual ones in the fall featured the fall meeting of the Susan Wesley Zone, conducted by Mrs. Edna Hounshell in Fairview Avenue Methodist Church.

If the spring meeting will be with each zone separately, the Susan Wesley Zone will meet in April at Emmanuel Methodist Church. But if a combined meeting is to be held, the leaders will have to select a place and date. The Susan Wesley Zone comprises 18 churches of Cumberland and the southern area; the Georges Creek-Frostburg Zone comprises that area; and the Frances Morgan Zone, Cumberland and eastern area.

Rev. Carol R. McClay of Emmanuel Methodist Church, offered prayer. Mrs. Hounshell read the Scripture and routine reports were given. Mrs. Harry Bender, Flintstone, district president; Mrs. Judson T. McCaleb, Hagerstown, promotion secretary, and Mrs. Finley Thompson, Cumberland, district vice president, conducted the training meeting for officers.

PANELISTS—A discussion on the poison control center, situated in Sacred Heart Hospital featured the program at the meeting of the Nurses Alumnae Association of the hospital. It was pointed out what the center means and its functions as it covers sections of Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania. Taking part were left to right, Mrs. Nancy Ritter, Mrs. Catherine Stakem, Dr. Gina Glick, who directed the discussion, and Miss Margaret Lee Lynch. Mrs. Catherine Murray conducted a brief business session preceding the program.

Flintstone Club Has Style Show

Style shows and a display featured the meeting of the Flintstone Homemakers Club held at the Flintstone Methodist Church The exhibit included a quilt, rugs, dresses, crayon drawings, dresser scarf and other needlework.

Mrs. Chester Robinette had charge of the 4-H style show, entitled "Harvest of Fashions." Autumn leaves and fruits formed the setting. Patricia Heavner was narrator. "Shine on Harvest Moon" was sung by a group consisting of Betty Twigg, Betty Jo and Vicki Hamon, Nancy Robinette, Mary Baker, and Dawn Mauzy. They were accompanied at the piano by Jean Robinette.

The 4-H Girls then modeled the dresses they had made. In addition to those named, Janice Teter and Mary Lou Burgess also modeled. Mrs. Robinette played the background music. The girls concluded their part of the show by singing, "Come, Ye Thankful People Come."

Mrs. Eston Heavner was narrator for the adult style show. Those styling garments which they had made were Mrs. Howard Robinette, Mrs. Chester Robinette, Mrs. William Mauzy, Mrs. William Heavner and daughter Ann, Mrs. H. V. Bender and granddaughter, Linda, Mrs. Curtis Nash, Mrs. R. T. Gilson, Mrs. Blaine Burgess, Mrs. Martin Gordon, Mrs. Franklin Norris and Mrs. Paul Oster.

Following the show the business meeting was held. Mrs. Paul Oster led the group in repeating the Lord's Prayer. The Creed was given by Mrs. Martin Gordon and the quotation of the month by Mrs. Gilson. The history of the hymn of the month, "Abide With Me," was given by Miss Pearl Wilson and sung by the group. Roll call was "My favorite piece of furniture." Mrs. Stella Ryan, Mrs. Hazel Bottenfield, Mrs. Charles Twigg, and Mrs. Leola Hebner were guests.

BPW Hear Finan-Beall On Pre-Election Forum

Both parties striving for the same thing, in different ways to obtain it, was stressed by both Thomas B. Finan, secretary of state; and J. Glenn Beall Jr., chairman of the Republican State Central committee, speaking in a pre-election forum at the meeting of the Cumberland Business and Professional Women's Club Tuesday evening at Central YMCA. Each agreed both Democrats and Republicans have the same ideals for education, the foreign situation, missile program and the United Nations.

Mr. Finan said it is not widely known "that an excavation is being made in Cuba, and it is believed to be a launching platform for missiles. He declared that had Truman been president, he would not have allowed it, 90 miles from American shores. He also stressed that the United States lost face when Japan revoked its invitation to President Eisenhower and when the Paris summit meeting collapsed. Both, he said, were due to poor intelligence information. He also criticized inaction on Hungary.

Opening his talk, Mr. Finan quoted Voltaire, "I may disagree with what you have to say, but I will defend unto death, your right to say it." He stressed the prosperity the Democratic party perity the Democratic party brought to the country, pointing out it inaugurated Social Security and that the Federal Reserve pulled the country out of the depression. Speaking of Nixon's stressing his experience and maturity, Mr. Finan pointed out that "Why England Slept," written by Kennedy as a senior theses for Harvard, was hailed for his "insight and research" and should have been taken by Chamberlain to Munich. He also said he wished to clarify that the Democrats did not say America is a second rate nation, but that it has a second rate admniistration.

Mr. Beall stresses statistics of what the Republicans did, and urged his audience to look to the future, "which we have to face, not past history." He showed how family income has risen since 1952; the cost of living did not rise in contrast to the way it did under the Democrats from 1946 to 1952; and stressed the country's productivity and fall in unemployment. He stressed that the Republican party always worked with the idea of a balanced budget, and "thinks the government should act to help the people help themselves." He said Herbert Hoover suggested social security and the Democrats merely worked it out.

Under the Democrats, Mr. Beall said, defense was "cut back to the extent that when United States went to Korea her men used equipment of World War II, against an enemy with more advanced equipment." He declared the Democrats "knew of the missile in World War II, but did nothing about a missile program."

Miss Nan Livingstone gave the preamble to the forum and Mrs. Joseph MacMannis introduced the speakers. Mrs. Ellen McKenzie gave the motto for the month, "The More You Go, the More You Know." She also led group singing of the National Anthem, "America the Beautiful," and "When Johnnie Comes Marching Home." Miss Mary Jo Simpson reported on BPW Week; and Mrs. Jean Cioni, on the 30-table scholarship card party.

Five new members were presented. They are Mrs. Doris Hager, Mrs. Elizabeth Skidmore, Miss Margaret King, Miss Mary R. Apple, and Mrs. Ruth Slaven. It was announced that Mrs. Effie Parsons will have a civil defense program at the next meeting. Mrs. Ethel Northcraft presided.

Others present were Mrs. Anna Kurtz, Miss Dorothy Manley, Mrs. Stella Twigg, Miss Anna Nicht, Mrs. Blanch Mantell, Mrs. Louise Matthews, Mrs. Kathleen Burke, Mrs. Dessie Williams, Miss Nell Hawkins, Miss Helen Beck, Miss Thelma Price, Mrs. Rosemary Ambrose, Miss Millie Gottlieb, Miss Hilda Williams, Miss Anna Durst, Miss Eloise Gurley, Miss Eudora Jochum, Miss Edith Scharf, Miss Lucretia Boucher, Miss Orpha-Bonita Pritchard, Miss Gerardine Pritchard, Miss Helene Knippenberg, Miss Lillian Hast, Miss Alta Ruth Simpson, Mrs. Beatrice Bloss, Mrs. Cora Perry.

Mrs. Louise Sharpless, Mrs. Janet Lancaster, Mrs. Grace Wilson, Mrs. Sue Johnson, Mrs. Nancy Ritter, Miss Mary Jo Logsdon, Miss Margaret Poole, Mrs. Margaret Bittinger, Mrs. Thelma Holmes, Mrs. Mary Wheeler, Mrs. Elizabeth Hollis, Miss Deloris Rowley, Miss Mary Walsh, Mrs. Lucile Roeder, Miss Kathleen Cumbee and Miss Margaret Barkman. Two guests were Mrs. George B. Tucker and Mrs. Eithne O'Farrell.

Mt. Tabor Society Buys Lights

The program for the Week of Prayer & Self Denial was held Wednesday evening at the meeting of the Mount Tabor Woman's Society of Christian Service.

The theme used was "Eager To Maintain Unity in Bond of Peace." Mrs. William Hetrick was in charge. Mrs. Edward Taschenberger and Mrs. Lester Ritchie gave talks on Wesley Community Centers, Mrs. Bernard Miller on Audio-Visual Programs Around The World, Mrs. Calvin Wolfe on Literacy-Literature Around The World, and Mrs. Merle Reckley on International Missionary Service.

Mrs. Foster Smith presided at the business meeting. There were 28 members and one visitor. Routine reports were given. Mrs. Smith reported on the Seminar-Institute and Susannah Wesley Zone meeting held recently at Fairview Avenue Church. Three members attended.

Mrs. Ritchie reported that the society made and sold 79 gallons of apple butter. Outside lights for the church will be purchased with the money then the balance will be deposited in the building fund.

The group decided to sell paring knives and to make Christmas candy to sell. Mrs. Leslie Beckner was named chairman.

Hostesses for the social hour were Mrs. Hetrick, Mrs. Beckner and Mrs. Charles Riley.

Alpha Alpha Chapter Buys Cabinet For Society

As its first project, Alpha Alpha Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, voted to purchase a bandage file cabinet for the Cancer Society. The meeting was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Genevieve Poorbaugh, Corriganville, in the form of a wiener roast after a visit to the Bishop Antique Shop.

Plans were made for two parties, a progressive dinner and a Christmas party. The dinner will be October 23, with cocktails at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Catherine Samson, Calvin Street. Dessert will be served at the home of Miss Judy Matt, Maplewood Lane.

The Christmas party, for members and guests, is to be held at La Petite Paree, Frostburg, during the Christmas holidays. Miss Ann Riggleman, social chairman, is in charge of arrangements. Mrs. Eleanor Devore reported the rummage sale held for the chapter's projects, was a huge success."

The second stage of the "Grab Bag Style Show" was held and members purchased shoes. The next will be in conjunction with the meeting November 1 at the home of Mrs. Samson. Each member is to bring a dress for the show.

Others attending were Miss Judy Matt, Mrs. Jeanne Fradiska, Miss Riggleman, Mrs. Phyllis Cooley, Mrs. Betty Barnes, Mrs. Betty Iames, Mrs. Samson, Mrs. Jane O'Rourke, Mrs. Virginia Topper, Mrs. Imogene Hixson and Miss Betty Stegmaier.

Class To Make Kits

Plans to make medical kits for World Community Day were formulated at the meeting of the Semper Fidelis class of First EUB Church, Wednesday evening. Mrs. Catherine Wilson conducted the meeting at the church. Mrs. E. E. Miller and Mrs. Edgar Shoemaker were named hostesses for November.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Bernice Wolford, assisted by Mrs. Charlotte Wolford. Routine reports were given by Mrs. Paul Long and Mrs. Anna Somercamp. Mrs. Goldie Twigg and Mrs. Bessie Zembower were hostesses.

Nov. 21 Dinner Planned

The Women's CTP formulated plans for a covered dish dinner at the meeting Monday in the legion home. Mrs. Clair Flora presided. It is to be held at 6 p.m. November 21.

Mrs. Mary Schultz, Mrs. Margaret Baker, Mrs. Bessie Matheney, Mrs. Pauline Shaffer, Mrs. Catherine Wilson, Mrs. Chloe Reynolds, Mrs. Edith Northcraft, Mrs. Mae Mintdrop, Mrs. Myrtle Brode and Mrs. Mabel Young are in charge of arrangements.

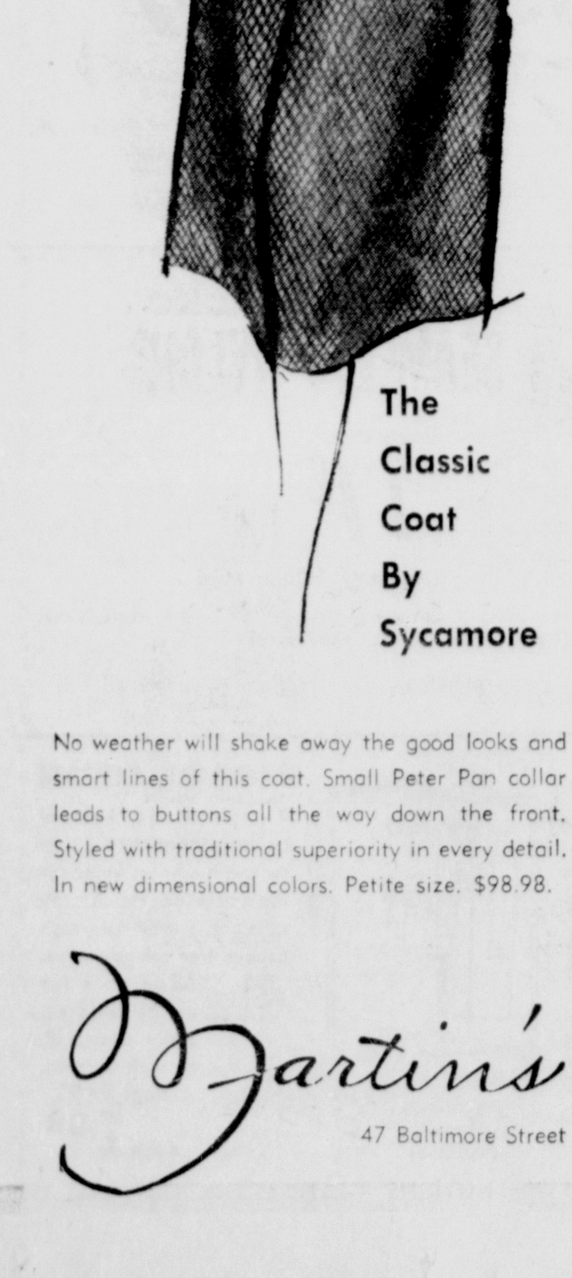

An invitation was received from the Keyser CTP for its installation October 24; and plans announced to entertain the Connellsville CTP Bowling League here October 27, following a dinner at the YMCA.

A Halloween party concluded the meeting, with Mrs. Mintdrop winning the award.

Officers of the Grand Chapter of Maryland will visit McKinley Chapter, 12 OES today at the temple. A program "Tapestry of Love" will be presented at 2; and "Together" at 7:30. Dinner will be served at 6.

Politics Enters Investigation Of Md. Prisons

GOP Leader Said To Have Sold Fruit To Reformatory

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — Politics entered the legislative investigation of Maryland prisons Thursday when Del. Charles Coss, D-Washington, declared that State Republican Chairman D. Eldred Rinehart sold fruit from his private orchard to the State Reformatory for Males.

Coss, a member of the investigating committee, said Rinehart and Robert L. Clopper, assistant superintendent at the reformatory, had jointly sold "thousands of dollars of produce to the institution."

The lawmaker made this comment while questioning Clopper about conditions at the reformatory. Clopper denied there were any times when persons were employed or assigned to the institution because of political consideration.

"I am a little sick and tired of people coming in here with angelic expressions on their faces and saying there has been no politics in the institution," said Coss, "when it is a plain fact that you and D. Eldred Rinehart have sold thousands of produce to the institution.

Rinehart owns a fruit orchard near Hagerstown.

Clopper said any tomatoes purchased by the reformatory from his farm would have come from the tenant who operates his property. He said he had nothing to do with purchases at the institution.

Clopper also denied he was involved in politics at the institution. He told the committee he was a life-long Republican and that he had expected to be fired when the Democrats under Gov. Tawes took over the State government last year.

Officials Testify

Calvin D. Hoffman, general officer in charge of plant and maintenance, and Benjamin F. Nichols, general officer in charge of discipline, also testified at the public hearing.

Both men agreed that when overcrowding conditions become acute, the prisoners to be transferred to the House of Correction are picked from a "suggested list." Nichols said the prisoners on the list were usually over 20 years old and were known troublemakers.

Later, the committee went into executive session to hear testimony from more than 40 other witnesses, mostly reformatory employes or former employes.

The committee is expected to report its findings to the Legislative Council on Nov. 15, but members predicted that hearings would continue into December.

Clopper told the committee that inmates who belonged to a nationwide Negro organization contributed to unrest at the reformatory last summer.

He said another major cause of the sit-down strikes was the cutting off of the five-day-per-month probation benefit for nimates employed outside the institution.

Clopper said that six reformatory inmates who were members of a group called "the muslems" confessed to causing disorders.

"I think you will hear more of this in prison life in the next five years," he added.

Clopper was the first witness to appear before the committee, headed by Sen. Edwin O. Weant, D-Carroll. The committee last met at the reformatory Sept. 30 and heard witnesses testify to low morale at the institution.

Negro Group Accused

Clopper said the Negro organization, with national headquarters in Chicago, preaches racial supremacy and predicts that Negroes will gain ascendancy over whites in America by 1970.

He said members of the group at the reformatory were known to prison officials and that they were at the heart of nearly every disorder.

Asked if the General Assembly should authorize time off for good behavior, Clopper said it would provide more incentive to the inmates. He added that prison department heads should have some say about such benefits.

The committee asked Clopper if the Board of Correction was ever denied access to the reformatory, located near Hagerstown. He replied no.

He declined to speculate on the advisability of using a portion of reformatory property for another State penal institution, but said he could see no factors which would bar such a move.

Clopper said morale at the institution had gone up and down in the past few years and that it was presently on the downside, partly because of the current legislative investigation.

Baltimore Receives Debt Boost Warning

BALTIMORE (AP) — A privately financed commission on government economy warned Thursday that Baltimore's municipal debt is increasing faster than the taxable base which supports it.

The Commission on Government Efficiency and Economy said this fact should be considered by voters who will be asked to ratify $46.5 million in public improvement loans on Nov. 8.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prescriptions for drugs required by its members will be filled at cost by the National Epilepsy League.

Jennings picked up the $44,000, three-place helicopter at the factory in California and flew it to Pikesville with mechanic Sgt. Edward Zachman, of the Maryland National Guard. State GOP Unit Opposes Compact BALTIMORE (AP) — The Republican State Central Committee has joined Sen. J. Glenn Beall, R-Md., in opposition to a Potomac River Compact.

The party's state chairman, D. Eldred Rinehart, announced the central committee's stand. "Maryland owns the Potomac to the Virginia shoreline and consequently it should exercise certain jurisdiction over the river," he said.

Rinehart, whose statement came after a similar one by Sen. Beall Wednesday night, urged Maryland Democrats to join a Republican movement to "preserve the integrity" of the state.

State Democratic officials earlier said sample ballots they intended to distribute would be marked in favor of the proposal — a revised version of an old compact, rescinded by Maryland in 1957. It will be put to a vote in a referendum Nov. 8.

TFC Oyster Control Proposal Endorsed

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Legislative Council committee has approved a proposal giving the Tidewater Fisheries Commission the power to adjust the opening and closing of the oyster season in Maryland waters.

The committee, headed by Del. Egbert L. Quinn, D-Somerset, also approved two other proposals submitted by Dr. H. C. Byrd, commission chairman.

One would give the TFC power to govern the opening and closing of oyster beds. Another would give the commission authority to designate oyster seed reservations in the tidewater area.

The oyster season proposal provided for the adjustment of the opening and closing dates within a 15 day period after Sept. 1 and May 1.

Mace-B Maintenance Contracts Given Martin

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Glenn L. Martin Co. of Baltimore has been awarded two contracts totaling $3,096,233, covering repairs and equipment for the Mace-B guided missile, the Air Force announced Thursday.

Martin said the contracts would require hiring 100 additional technicians and enlargement of a present building where repair work will be handled.

The official also said the Baltimore firm would establish a central supply depot at Middle River to accommodate all Mace-B surface-to-surface missiles as they arrive here from overseas bases for alterations and maintenance.

The Mace-B currently is undergoing testing and is scheduled to be ready for combat by the end of 1961.

The contracts include one for $2,096,233, covering service and maintenance, and one for $1,000,000 to repair and modernize the guidance and ground support systems.

106 Districts Could Decide House Control

By RAYMOND LAHR

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic and Republican strategists are warily eyeing 106 so-called marginal districts which could determine control of the House of Representatives in the Nov. 8 election.

Such a district is one in which the winning candidate polled less than 55 per cent of the vote in the last election. These congressmen are considered the easiest to beat for re-election the next time around.

Republican leaders concede they have no chance to recapture the Senate where the Democrats now hold a 66-34 seat margin. But they talk optimistically of regaining the House, even though the odds are against them.

Republicans now hold 61 of the marginal House seats and the Democrats 45. With all 437 House seats to be filled this year, the present party line-up is 280 Democrats and 151 Republicans. There are six vacancies.

The Republicans need a net gain of 65 seats to come up with the 219 needed to control the House. Thus, the GOP must look beyond the 61 marginal districts. One of their major targets is the 47 seats which the Democrats took away from the GOP in 1958.

Success of the Republican House drive could be determined in large measure by how well Richard M. Nixon does in the presidential race.

Control of the House usually has gone in the past to the party winning the White House. But this did not hold true in the last election when President Eisenhower was returned to office in a landslide and the Democrats still walked off with both houses of Congress.

Many of the 106 marginal House seats this year are in states which are major presidential battlegrounds. New York has 10, California and Ohio seven each, Pennsylvania and Illinois five each, and Michigan and New Jersey four each.

To win control of the Senate, the Republicans would have to hold the 11 seats it has at stake and oust 17 Democrats. But 10 of the 23 Democratic seats up this year are in the South, still safely Democratic for senatorial candidates.

Satellites Could Locate Lost Ships And Planes

WASHINGTON (AP)—A space expert said Wednesday satellites could be used to locate lost ships and planes.

Dr. James C. Fletcher, president of Space Electronics Corp., Glendale, Calif., said satellites could search out and report within half a mile the location of virtually any type of vehicle or person any place in the world.

However the subject of the search would need a small radio transmitter with which to send signals in time of trouble.

Fletcher told newsmen at a luncheon that search satellites could be used to locate an astronaut's craft, space capsules or missile nose cones or even conventional aircraft and ships.

Fletcher said the equipment could be used only by satellites in relatively low orbit—no more than several hundreds of miles above the earth.

Protestant Council Head Appeals For Fair Play

CHICAGO (AP)—The head of a national Protestant council, in replying to a charge that his group plans an anti-Kennedy campaign, Wednesday appealed for fair play.

Dr. George Ford, director of the National Association of Evangelicals, invited the executive director of the Fair Campaign Practices Committee, Bruce Felknor, to visit NAE offices in Wheaton, Ill., and find out what it does.

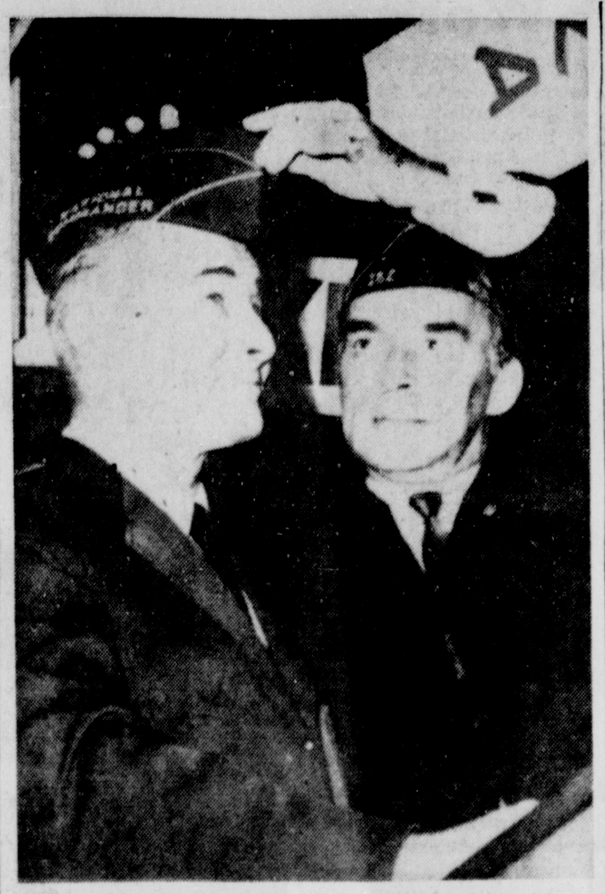

The NAE is affiliated with 38 Protestant organizations claiming 28,000 congregations, but does not represent any of the larger Protestant church denominations.

Felknor said in a lay sermon Sunday in New York that some conservative Protestant churchmen planned to turn Reformation Sunday, Oct. 30, into a gigantic anti-Kennedy campaign. Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy is a Roman Catholic.

Ford said Felknor's statement was an obvious reference to the NAE's plan to promote debate over separation of church and state in Reformation Sunday messages.

"We feel the FCPC ought to practice fairness," Ford told a news conference, "and to investigate our operations before linking us with bigots or bigotry."

He said the NAE has told none of its 10 million affiliated members to vote for or against Kennedy.

Rail Executive Hits 'Lopsided' Government Policies

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Philip A. Hollar, vice president of the Association of American Railroads, charged Wednesday that the nation's transportation system "is now more out of balance than ever before" because of government stalling.

Hollar, in a speech to the Railway Club of Pittsburgh, said years of legislative inaction in the face of critical transport policy inequities have brought America up against "a transportation crisis of gathering proportions."

The AAR executive said that 30 Class I railroads (more than one out of four major lines) operated in the red in the first eight months of 1960.

He laid the blame for the railroads' worsening problems on a "lopsided pattern" of government policies which overregulate and over-tax the unsubsidized railroads while aiding their competitors through highway, airway, and waterway projects.

"In stimulating rapid growth of air, road and river hauling, government policies have created an oversupply of transport capacity, depressing railroad earnings to a bare subsistence level," Hollar said.

"These stacked policies have promoted rampant waste. They have stimulated and overbuilt the most inefficient carriers at the direct expense of the most efficent general carrier of all — the railroads."

NEW YORK (AP)—Unimpressive third-quarter corporate earnings statements are getting some of the blame for the stock market's indifferent action.

Brokers and investors were disappointed by some of the reports already out and are apprehensive about some to come.

"The profit statements are undoubtedly in large part responsible for current hesitation and may result in some further weakness before they are eliminated as a market factor," said the brokerage house, A.M. Kidder & Co.

"The most important to appear thus far have shown uniform decreases in profits from last year, for example Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, General Electric, Westinghouse and Parke Davis," said Kidder.

"We have consistently maintained the view that disappointing third-quarter earnings may have temporary adverse effects on the market but would not seriously effect the general trend, which we regard as upward.

"There seems to be no reason to alter the opinion that the lows have been seen and that year-end prices will show appreciable increases over current levels."

Stock market performances in past presidential election years are intriguing analysts as the current campaign approaches a climax.

Alan C. Poole of Hemphill, Noyes & Co. recalls that in seven of the last eight presidential election years — the depression year of 1932 was an exception — the market has rallied from the beginning of October until the day before election from 0.5 per cent to 7 per cent and on an average of approximately 4.3 per cent.

Applying these factors, says Poole, the Dow Jones industrial average could reach as high as 628; applying the average rise it would reach 603.

In these seven years when stock prices advanced, they were still higher at the end of the year in four instances. But, at the same time, in the following year they fell below their October lows on six occasions, while at the year end they were below their October lows on two occasions.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Contemporary fashion's putting a temporary stop to the old game "button, button, who's got the button."

The newest buttons are so large —and glittery—that few designers try to conceal them.

Bernard Hellman, of the National Notion Association, pulled out a tray of the newest buttons —sparkling things ranging from one to three inches in diameter —to show the latest trend.

"Primarily," he said, "buttons serve two purposes, as closures and trimmings. This season the emphasis is on trimmings. The simplest dress, as a result, becomes a costume when it's jeweled buttons catch the light — from sun, electric bulbs or men's eyes."

In a typical year, the button expert said, annual sales of buttons amount to about $32 million. But this year's giant and jeweled trend is expected to push button sales further into the millions.

Many of the buttons sold are of the dozen for a dime quality. But the new trend is so catching, that sales of buttons costing $1 each, and more, probably will double, Hellman said.

The button man said you can judge the value of the dress you buy by the buttons on it at the time of purchase.

"And the budget - conscious woman who buys a lower-priced dress with poor quality buttons can make it look better by replacing them with more expensive ones.

"What's more, there's no simpler nor more effective remodeling job on last season's dress than by making it look fresher, newer and certainly more fashionable with the newest, biggest, jeweled buttons."

As a result of the trend, Hellman said, dozens of simple tricks with buttons are popping into view.

For example, you can sew a bright one near the left shoulder of a sweater or classic woolen dress and it looks like an ornamental pin.

To add to the continuity of a costume, you can replace bone buttons with jeweled ones adding a match-mate button to the hat you plan to wear.

With the same idea in mind, Hellman said, a button is stitched to the lapel of a coat, to the brim of a hat or to the rim of a pair of shoes—or even to the cuff of gloves.

"It adds brightness to an otherwise somber costume," he said.

Hellman said teen-agers are making the most of the new big buttons. They are making earrings of buttons, sewing them on bands of ribbon to make bracelets, hairbands and chokers.

1970 Traffic Picture Grim

CHICAGO (UPI)— Some 120 million persons will be driving their automobiles a trillion miles a year by 1970, a National Safety Council official predicted Wednesday.

The official, Paul Jones, director of public information for the council, said that by 1970 there will be enough autos in operation to line them 190 abreast every foot of the way from Chicago to Los Angeles.

Jones said that 100 million cars, trucks, buses and what not will swarm over the nation's highways in the next decade.

"And what is the price in human life and in cold cash that we may have to pay for all this?" Jones asked delegates to the National Safety Congress here.

"Well, unless we do better in the next 10 years than we are doing now, there will be a traffic toll in 1970 of 55,000 deaths and two million disabling injuries. And the cost will be about $9 billion," he said.

BROADCAST REVENUES UP

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Communications Commission reports that revenues of the broadcast industry totaled $1.7 billion in 1959, or 11 per cent more than the previous year.

Revenues for television amounted to $1.16 billion, an increase of 13 per cent over 1958. Radio revenue rose about seven per cent for a total of $560 million.

ELECTRIC OUTPUT RISES

NEW YORK (UPI) — Electric energy output rose to 13,736,000,000 kilowatt hours in the week ended Oct. 15 from 13,725,000,000 a week earlier and 12,861,000,000 in the same week last year, the Edison Electric Institute reported Wednesday.

The seasonally adjusted index rose to 269.7 per cent of the 1947-49 average from 265.7 per cent a week earlier and 256.4 per cent in the same week last year.

CAR PRODUCTION INCREASE

DETROIT (UPI)—The Automobile Manufacturers Association reported Wednesday that automakers turned out 162,549 vehicles last week including 144,615 cars, 17,849 trucks and 85 buses. This compared with 140,506 cars, 18,395 trucks and 100 buses in the previous week.

DOLLAR ACCEPTANCES UP

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bankers' dollar acceptances edged up seasonally by $12,408,000 in September, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York reported.

This compares with rises of $94,987,000 the previous month and $7,878,000 in September 1959.

INSURANCE PAYMENTS RISE

NEW YORK (UPI)—Life insurance and annuity payments to American families rose by $415.7 million in the first eight months of this year, the Institute of Life Insurance said Wednesday.

The total was $5,344,700,000. Of this $2,248 million was in death payments and $3,097 million, or 58 per cent, in annuity or other "living benefits."

Science At Work

By The Associated Press

Scientists have synthesized a sex lure; others are planning greater safety on highways, and in space travel.

SEX LURE

Female gypsy moths secrete a potent chemical which lures males for mating. Entomologists have long used a crude extract containing this attractant in survey traps to locate areas infested with these moths, which destroy forest and shade trees.

Now a 30-year goal has been achieved in isolating and purifying the sex-lure chemical, and producing it synthetically. Starting with abdominal segments from 500,000 female moths, Martin Jacobson, Morton Beroza and William A. Jones of the U.S. Agricultural Research Service, Beltsville, Md., found the complex pathways to isolation and synthesis. They think it is the first reported synthesis of a naturally occuring insect sex attractant.

SAFE DRIVING

As an aid toward safer, quicker, easier highway travel, Batelle Memorial Institute psychologists are making a basic study of the psychological tasks involved in driving an automobile.

Driving is mainly a matter of handling information and making split second decisions, Dr. Charlotte Christner points out. Drivers must see and react to signals from other cars—their changes in speed or directions, positions, brake lights, hand signals. the project for the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads seeks better understanding of the psychological processes involved.

SPACE SURVIVAL

Approaching Mars, astronauts may discover their braking engine won't fire to slow their speed for a landing.

Unless they have some system of emergency braking, they could miss the planet, and go drifting around it for 11 years.

This is one hypothetical example of the need for careful and successful planning for survival of spaceship crews, say Eugene A. Smith and Robert W. Connor of the Astro Science Laboratory of Northrop Corp.

Planning involves provisions for survival if something goes seriously haywire on the spaceship. One solution could be escaping aboard another vehicle, provisioned and fueled, carried by the spacecraft itself. Another, staying aboard and attempting repairs until a rescue craft speeds to the ship. Or maybe a combination of both methods.

Rise In Earnings

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI)—The Caterpillar Tractor Co., has announced an improvement in earnings despite a drop in sales.

Caterpillar said third quarter earnings improved even after sales dropped eight per cent during the same period. Sales totaled $185,860,583 in the third quarter, compared with $195,482,899 for the same part of 1959. Net earnings were $12,379,070 or 45 cents a share, against $14,435,633 or 52 cents a year ago.

To Install King

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (UPI)—Malaya's new king will be officially installed Jan. 2, it was reported here.

Tuan Syed Putra was elected by his fellow provincial rulers last month to serve a five-year term as king of the federation.

Parliamentary Democracy In Japan Set Back

By AL AXELBANK

TOKYO (UPI) — One week ago Japan's chief opposition leader was slain by two quick thrusts from an assassin's knife and parliamentary democracy in Japan suffered another serious blow.

The death of Socialist party Chairman Inejiro Asanuma was also a crippling blow to his party which was waging a vigorous campaign in the coming general elections.

Coupled with the recent anti-government violence which succeeded in blocking President Eisenhower's visit and toppled the government of Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi, the assassination was lamented by all of Japan's major parties.

If democracy, born only 15 years ago in Japan with the U.S. occupation after World War II, was to survive in this nation it was necessary to have a strong, responsible opposition party.

The Socialist party was formed in November, 1945. It came into power briefly in 1947 but quickly bowed out and the newly organized Liberal-Democratic party took over.

In the rough and tumble Japanese politics of the last 15 years, many observers said the Socialist party was becoming a respected, sound opposition party vital to a democracy.

A major crisis developed over the recently signed United States-Japan security treaty when leftist anti-government demonstrators rioted outside the Diet (parliament) building. Although a minority, the demonstrators succeeded in paralyzing the government. Premier Kishi was accused by the opposition of ramming the treaty through the Diet. Many of the nation's newspapers sided with this view.

As a result, opposition members of the Diet boycotted all succeeding legislative sessions until Kishi finally resigned and the new government of Premier Hayato Ikeda took over.

Normalcy appeared again to have been restored to Japanese politics. The barbed wire which had been strung around the Diet to keep leftist mobs out was taken down. Few, if any, anti-government demonstrations were held.

Then the assassination last week, and again there were fears for parliamentary democracy in this country.

There were renewed calls for massive anti-government demonstrations by the Socialist party and the giant Sohyo Labor Federation.

But most of the nation's attention this week focused on the new elections. The Socialists, with the death of their leader were expected to pick up numerous sympathy votes.

The ruling Liberal Democrats also were confident of victory.

As the Diet opened an extraordinary session Monday, Premier Ikeda pledged himself to prevent any future violence in politics.

Responsible leaders of all parties agreed that violence must be wiped out if parliamentary democracy was to exist in this country.

U.S. Concludes Sub Search

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thursday's claim from Moscow that the Soviet Union has atomic-powered, missile-firing submarines came shortly after conclusion of a U.S. search for an unidentified sub off Guatemala. And the Navy said it assumes the Reds know how to make A—submarines.

The Navy disclosed the Guatemalan search was conducted over the past weekend by four U.S. planes off the Pacific coast of the Central American country. The four P2V antisubmarine warfare planes from the Jacksonville, Fla., naval base reached the search area Oct. 14 and 16 and returned to Jacksonville Oct. 18 and 19.

The announcement did not disclose the results of the search but stressed it was made at the request of the Guatemalan government which had received reports of an unidentified submarine operating off its Pacific coast.

This brief mission was completed while a Navy task force of an aircraft carrier and four destroyers continued its search of Pacific waters between California and Hawaii.

Electra Passenger Traffic Up Despite Crash

By United Press International

Major airlines reported Wednesday that passenger traffic aboard Electra airliners has increased generally despite the Oct. 4 crash of an Electra in which 62 persons died.

Spokesmen for the airlines said they continue to regard the Lockheed-built turbo-prop Electras as fine airplanes despite a series of four crashes.

"Our confidence rubs off on the passengers," said Mrs. Jean Friedkin, vice president of Pacific Southwest Airlines. "It's a shame the Electra has become a political football."

Mrs. Friedkin said the number of passengers using Pacific Southwest Electras has jumped 5.2 per cent since the Boston crash early this month. Eastern Airlines said 44 per cent more persons used their Electras in the week following the crash than during the same week a year ago, even though it was an Eastern Electra which went down at Boston.

National Airlines reported a 3.5 per cent increase in Electra passengers in the week after the tragedy. Spokesmen for Northwest and American airlines reported a slight drop in Electra traffic immediately after the crash, but said the passenger load was now back to normal.

(In Washington, sources close to the investigation of the Boston crash told United Press International there is no conclusive evidence so far that bird impact caused the tragedy.

How busy is your phone?

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

A Busy Line — Measure Of Teen Manners

Every girl wants a busy line—telephone popularity, that is. When a boy does call . . . remember that the telephone is an instrument of convenience, and he may be calling for some information. Boys don't always call for a date. Perhaps he wants to ask you the time of the Sunday School picnic, or if you are going to play in the tennis tournament . . . or, what's wrong with just calling to pass-the-time of night?

If you immediately put on that "why did you call" tone in your voice, he'll wish he hadn't called at all.

When a boy does call and gets to the point with, "Would you like to go to the movies with me on Saturday?", you have no problems. If you want to go, accept the date graciously. Assure him that you mean what you say. Don't stall and play hard to get. He'll know it is a fake and forget your telephone number completely.

Not that it's necessary to accept a date. A girl is never under any obligation to accept every date offer. But, it is best to play fair and be direct. Just say: "Thank you for asking me, but I have made other plans for the evening." Then, there'll be no hurt feelings.

And unnecessarily hurting others' feelings is a show of bad manners indeed. Good manners, like good grooming, mirror a young girl's whole personality.

Not too many of us realize fully how dependent on the way we feel are our manners. All tired out and bone-weary . . . short and gruff with friends. Feeling alive and healthy . . . a high rating for our treatment of others.

To make sure your treatment of others always rates high, keep yourself in high spirits and high health. "Personality Plus Through Diet", my newest charm aid, gives foodlore for teens, easily and simply enabling them to keep in high health and display an optimum personality.

For just 25c and your name and address sent to me, JRP, c/o this paper, you will receive your copy of "Personality Plus Through Diet". . . and watch your health improve and your rating with others soar.

Gas Thief Caught By Cunning Farmer

WHITBY, Ont. (UPI) — Paul Rombough, 20, began a two months jail sentence Wednesday, with compliments of a cunning farmer and a tank of water.

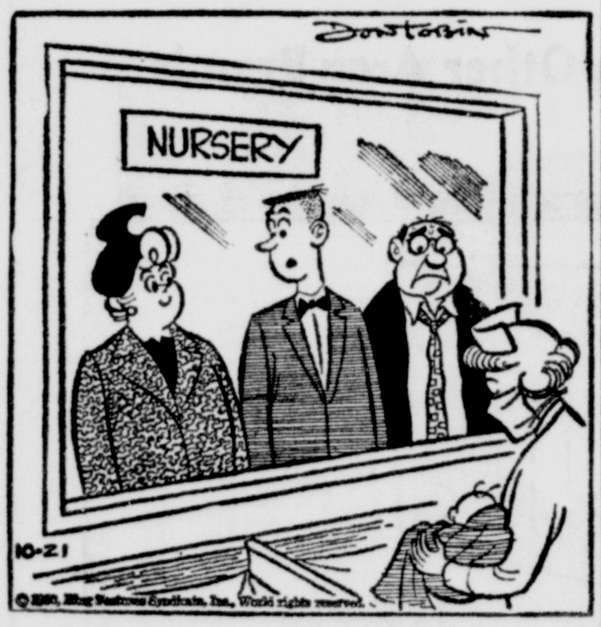

Rombough pleaded guilty Tuesday to a charge of attempting to steal gasoline from the storage tank on Henry Westney's farm. The youth was arrested 300 yards from the farmhouse trying to hitch a ride after a borrowed car he was driving, stalled.

It seemed Westney became annoyed when 70 gallons of gas disappeared from his storage tank in four days, so he filled it with water.

On Oct. 15 he said he heard a car race away from the storage tank, and after telephoning police, gave chase—and found Rombough beside the stalled car—its gas tank full of water.

Orange pekoe designates tea with large leaves. The term has nothing to do with flavor or quality. Pekoe is the Chinese word for "white hair," and formerly was applied to young tea leaves covered with a white down. The Chinese sometimes scented the leaves with orange blossoms.

The Great Issue

Mort Sahl contributed one of the most pungent notices yet of the Nixon-Kennedy debate during the Ed Sullivan show—a sample of debate technique which ran like this:

"I'm glad you asked me that. I was discussing that the other night with my wife Pat. Just after we put the children to bed. She was in the corner pledging allegiance to the flag." And so on. "I'm planning a major policy address on just that point right after the election." That isn't Sahl's line. That's my line but I'll give it to Sahl if he likes it.

God knows there has been little enough levity in this campaign. James Reston has gleefully pointed out that Nixon has added a cussing issue in an arrant bid for the mom vote and asks whether we want a President who can't cuss. I'm terribly concerned about this too. There is only one more debate scheduled and I devoutly hope the reporters will get away from Quemoy and Matsu just long enough to pin down both candidates on the cussing issue.

Kennedy has yet to be heard from on little children in their mothers' arms. Is he for them? Nixon is. I'd like to hear Nixon come out just once again for motherhood because the last time I thought a little light from heaven came down and smote him on the brow. It could be something's the matter with the set. But I'd like to know. If it's Divine Intervention with the lighting arrangements, then God hasn't been told yet that he's not a legitimate issue.

The legitimate issues—besides whether the next President will or won't cuss—are how much Jackie Kennedy pays for her dresses? Does Pat buy her clothes at Elizabeth Arden's? For how much? Who lit Nixon in the first debate? (This could be one of those questions, like who promoted Peress? that would go on forever.)

However, the country at large doesn't feel this way. A Sindlinger survey just issued shows that foreign policy is the number one issue among the voters and the number two issue is religion. In the South religion is the number one issue. The candidates have said religion is not a discussible subject.

But when 21,000,000 people (Sindlinger's estimate of the number to whom religion is the number one issue) are disturbed or excited or upset about an issue and cannot find it in their newspapers or magazines or radios, they will turn elsewhere to find it. A vacuum has been created and into it is rushing all the bigots in the nation with tons of scurrilous anti-Catholic literature.

This is what usually happens when news is suppressed. People deal in rumors, half truths, and gossip. Nothing did so much to clear the air as Sen. Kennedy's stand in front of the Houston Protestant ministers to state his freedom of conscience. The Democrats have considered it important enough to buy time on television station and repeat the show in a good many cities throughout the country.

Who decreed that the Catholic Church is not a legitimate subject of discussion anyway? It is not Sen. Kennedy's freedom of worship that bothers 21,000,000 people; it is their own freedoms under a Catholic President. Why can't this be discussed?

The reason is that the Catholic Church can hardly be drawn into an argument over freedom of religion. The Church would rather there be no discussion at all. This has put the religious issue in a twilight zone where it does Sen. Kennedy terrible harm. The religious issue is very much a legitimate issue. It's discussed everywhere.

Religion has not been properly dealt with in the Great TV debate and it should be.

Convicted Robber Loses His Appeal

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Stephanos Glaros has lost his fight for reversal of a Dorchester County robbery conviction in the Court of Appeals.

The high court Wednesday dismissed Glaros' contentions, saying it could "find no substantial merit" in any of them.

Glaros was sentenced by Dorchester County Circuit Court to 15 years in the Maryland Penitentiary for the $155,000 robbery of George O. Powley's store in Wingate on Nov. 7-8, 1958. The money has never been recovered.

Glaros contended at the time of the trial that he had been framed.

He had argued among other things that the lower court failed to adequately question the jury on any prejudices toward his Greek ancestry.

The high court said "the general question as to bias against any race, creed or nationality eliminated the need to ask the specific question as to possible prejudice against a Greek."

False Death Report Part Of Red Tactics

By JOHN CALLCOTT

BONN (UPI) — During the just-completed NATO exercises, the wife of a West German non-com received a telephone call.

"Your husband has died in a maneuver accident," she was told by a man who claimed he belonged to her husband's unit.

The man was a Communist agent, carrying out one of the dirtier phases of Red propaganda against West German armed forces. The non-com was perfectly okay.

Defense Ministry officials, in relating the incident, described an enormous increase in Communist propaganda against the Bundeswehr (armed forces). Some idea of the increase was given by Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss.

"In 1957 the Communists, mainly the Soviet Zone, sent 300,000 propaganda pamphlets a month to jwest Germany," Strauss said.

"Ten per cent of them were directed against the Bundeswehr. In 1960 the figure was 12 million a month."

Of the 12 million pamphlets, ministry officials said, 10 per cent of 1.2 million are still directed against the armed forces.

Thrre are three groups of recipients: German Soldiers, Germany's allies and Germany's civilian population.

Thanks to the ministry's new psychological Defense Program German soldiers and their families pay little attention to the propaganda.

"Communist success in this field is exactly nil," ministry spokesman Wolfram von Raven said. "Fortunately the soldiers are taught that they muse defend themselves against propaganda as if they were defending themselves against any other weapon like a gun."

The Communists often use harmless-looking travel pamphlets for their propaganda. On the outside may be a photograph of a German lake. Inside, propaganda.

The soldiers are told to lay down their arms. "You know you're only American cannon-fodder," is one phrase the Communists use. Other pamphlets incite soldiers against their superiors.

Propaganda directed against the Bundeswehr and circulated among the civilian population, the ministry said, is heavily concentrated in areas where Nike or other missile bases are built. Civilians are told the bases mean their sure death.

90 Per Cent Convicted For Tax Fraud

CHICAGO (UPI) — Nine out of every ten persons indicted in the last fiscal year for fraudulently evading federal taxes were convicted, Commerce Clearing House reports.

The national reporting authority on tax and business law said 1,194 persons were indicted for tax fraud and 1,079 were convicted during the year ended June 30, 1960.

Jail sentences averaged more than two years each, Commerce Clearing House said, and fines averaged $2,289 each.

More than 100,000 leads indicating possible tax evasion were reported to the Internal Revenue Service, the reporting authority said. Special agents sifted these down to 15,041 cases, and full-scale investigations were made in 3,561 cases.

Play Equipment Is Put In Storage

The City Recreation Department finished picking up heavy equipment from playgrounds this week, according to C. Eugene Mason, director.

The heavy equipment, which includes such items as swings and slides, was taken from city-owned playgrounds to the Street Department warehouse for repair and storage.

Equipment was taken from school playgrounds before school opened.

Mr. Mason said some of the equipment shows the effect of normal wear and tear but that deliberate damage was very slight.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—There are a lot of snakes at the new Fork Creek Public Hunting area in Boone County.

The State Conservation Commission said Thursday that 175 copperheads and 35 rattlesnakes have been killed in recent weeks by workers making improvements at the area.

The commission also announced that the area would not be open to deer hunting this year — but not because of the snakes. The area was recently stocked with 19 deer. It may be closed to deer hunters for as long as 5 years in order that the deer have time to produce a huntable herd.

Part V-B—Municipal Court

Section 41C. (a). There is hereby created a Municipal Court of Baltimore City. Said Court shall consist originally of eleven Judges; the number of such Judges may thereafter be increased or decreased by the General Assembly by law, but no such decrease shall affect the term of any Judge then in office or his right to stand for election for further terms as hereinafter provided. The Judges of said Court shall have the qualifications prescribed by Section 2 of this Article, shall each have practiced law in the City of Baltimore for a total period of at least five years and shall devote their full time to the duties of said Court; they shall hold office subject to the provisions of Sections 3 and 4 of this Article with regard to retirement and removal from office; and they shall receive such compensation from such sources as shall be provided by law by the General Assembly, which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office. If any vacancy occurs during any such original term, the Governor shall appoint a successor to serve for the remainder of such term. After the expiration of said original terms, the terms of office of said Court shall be for ten years from the expiration of the preceding term, and shall be filled as follows:

(1) Any qualified person, including an incumbent Judge holding office by any such initial or subsequent appointment or election, shall be eligible for election for a term of ten years, at the biennial election for Representatives in Congress immediately preceding the expiration of a term of office.

(2) Whenever a vacancy shall occur in said Court (other than in an original term or other than upon expiration of a term), for any cause, the Governor shall appoint to said Court a Judge who shall hold office under such appointment until the thirty-first day of December immediately following the first Congressional election occurring at least one year after the date of his appointment.

(3) In order to qualify for election or re-election a candidate shall file a certificate of candidacy with the Supervisors of Elections of Baltimore City not later than midnight of the day which is ten weeks or seventy days prior to the day on which the primary election should be held.

(4) The names of all candidates for judge of the Municipal Court created herein shall be placed in the voting machines without any party label or other distinguishing mark or location which might directly or indirectly indicate the party affiliation of any such candidate.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: I'm a business man who has been around plenty (used to be in the merchant marine). For the life of me I don't know why so many guys who write to you with their troubles mention the dimensions of their babes. Maybe that's why they have trouble—they go looking for a wife with a tape-measure instead of using common sense.

One jerk who wrote to you said he hated to lose the chick (who lifted his wallet, yet) and added mournfully, "she's 38-24-34." He wanted to know if she could be "rehabilitated." It would serve the clown right if after he married her she turned out to be 26-24-36. Lingerie shops have the most amazing gadgets these days.

Not only should these morons consider the possibility of an optical illusion, but the shape of things has been known to change with the passing of time and the arrival of three or four kids.

Thanks for letting me have my say, Ann. I couldn't resist the chance to play—ANDY LANDERS

DEAR ANDY: Thanks for those words of wisdom. Coming from a male they should have more impact. If more men listened to, instead of looked at, what they were marrying, my mail would be much lighter.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a widow who is going with a widower. We are both in our 50s, sensible, educated, and we get along well.

Lawrence has many friends about whom he speaks often. I have not met them. He has suggested we just drop in on them. I say it's impolite to "drop in" on people. Lawrence says I'm too formal and his friends have expressed a desire to meet me and suggested he bring me over any time.

It is my contention that "drop in anytime" is no invitation. We've discussed this a good bit and he suggested I write to you for the final word. I was delighted, because I've been reading your column long enough to know what you'll say. So—please say it.—CONFIDENT

DEAR CONFIDENT: Tell Lawrence that when his friends get so eager to meet you that they tell him exactly when to bring you over (like a specific evening) you'll be happy to go. Not until.

A suggestion that you "drop in sometime" is not an invitation. It's a meaningless conversational gambit.

DEAR ANN: A child in our neighborhood is mentally ill. When the mother goes shopping she leaves the girl to roam the streets. There are other children in the family but they seem to be busy with their own playmates.

This child is in her early teens now and I'm afraid some unscrupulous scoundrel may take advantage of her. She's not bad-looking but it's obvious that she has the mentality of a 6 or 7-year-old.

Last year I carefully broached the subject to her mother. She lit into me saying she didn't need any suggestions on how to care for her children. Will you please tell me what I can do to help this girl without getting into trouble with the family?—A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Notify the local juvenile authorities. I'm confident they'll come through with the help the girl and her mother need.

Are you tempted to smoke because the crowd does? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teen-age Smoking," enclosing with your request 10c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

He shall be paid such compensation from such sources as the General Assembly shall prescribe from time to time by law. There shall be such deputy and assistant clerks, clerical, probationary, stenographic and other employees as may be prescribed from time to time by the General Assembly by law and such law shall prescribe the method of selection, amount and manner of compensation and tenure of such employees and that such employees and the Chief Clerk shall be or become members of the Classified City Service of Baltimore or the Classified Service of the State or another classified service or merit system which may be hereafter established. Such employees shall perform such duties as may be prescribed from time to time by said Court or by law by the General Assembly. THE EMPLOYEES OF THE TRAFFIC COURT OF BALTIMORE CITY SHALL BE TRANSFERRED FROM THE TRAFFIC COURT TO THE MUNICIPAL COURT, AS OF THE FIRST MONDAY IN MAY, 1961.

(e) After the day immediately preceding the first Monday in May, 1961, no Justice of the Peace of Baltimore City, including the Police Magistrates of Baltimore City, the Chief Police Magistrate of Baltimore City, the Magistrates-at-Large for Baltimore City, the Magistrates of the Traffic Court of Baltimore City, and the Chief Magistrate of the Traffic Court of Baltimore City, shall exercise any of the jurisdiction, or have any of the powers or duties conferred on the Court herein created.

(f) No member of the General Assembly at which this amendment is proposed, if otherwise qualified, shall be ineligible for appointment or election as judge of the Municipal Court for Baltimore City by reason of his membership in such General Assembly.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the foregoing sections hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall, at the next general election to be held in this State in November, 1960, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment" as now provided by law and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article XIV of the Constitution and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article XIV.

(1) To carry out urban renewal projects which SHALL BE LIMITED TO slum clearance IN SLUM OR BLIGHTED AREAS and redevelopment or the rehabilitation of slum or blighted areas, and to include the acquisition, within the boundary lines of such county or municipal corporation, of land and property of every kind and any right, interest, franchise, easement or privilege therein, by purchase, lease, gift, condemnation or any other legal means. THE TERM "SLUM AREA" SHALL MEAN ANY AREA WHERE DWELLINGS PREDOMINATE WHICH, BY REASON OF DEPRECIATION, OVERCROWDING, FAULTY ARRANGEMENT OF DESIGN, LACK OF VENTILATION, LIGHT OR SANITARY FACILITIES, OR ANY COMBINATION OF THESE FACTORS, ARE DETRIMENTAL TO THE PUBLIC SAFETY, HEALTH OR MORALS. THE TERM "BLIGHTED AREA" SHALL MEAN AN AREA IN WHICH A MAJORITY OF BUILDINGS HAVE DECLINED IN PRODUCTIVITY BY REASON OF OBSOLESCENSE, DEPRECIATION OR OTHER CAUSES TO AN EXTENT THEY NO LONGER JUSTIFY FUNDAMENTAL REPAIRS AND ADEQUATE MAINTENANCE.

(2) To sell, lease, convey, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of said land or property, regardless of whether or not it has been developed, redeveloped, altered or improved and irrespective of the manner or means in or by which it may have been acquired, to any private, public or quasi public corporation, partnership, association, person or other legal entity.

No land or property taken by any county or any municipal corporation for any of the aforementioned purposes or in connection with the exercise of any of the powers which may be granted to such county or municipal corporation pursuant to this section by exercising the power of eminent domain shall be taken without just compensation, as agreed upon between the parties, or awarded by a jury, being first paid or tendered to the party entitled to such compensation.

All land or property needed, or taken by the exercise of the power of eminent domain, by any county or any municipal corporation for any of the aforementioned purposes or in connection with the exercise of any of the powers which may be granted to such county or municipal corporation pursuant to this Section is hereby declared to be needed or taken for public uses and purposes. Any or all of the activities authorized pursuant to this section shall constitute governmental functions undertaken for public uses and purposes and the power of taxation may be exercised, public funds expended and public credit extended in furtherance thereof.

(B) THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY MAY GRANT TO ANY COUNTY OR ANY MUNICIPAL CORPORATION, BY PUBLIC LOCAL LAW, ANY AND ALL ADDITIONAL power and authority necessary or proper to carry into full force and effect any and all of the specific powers authorized by this section and to fully accomplish any and all of the purposes and objects contemplated by the provisions of this section, provided such additional power or authority is not inconsistent with the terms and provisions of this section or with any other provision or provisions of the Constitution of Maryland.

(C) THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF MARYLAND, BY PUBLIC LOCAL LAW, MAY ESTABLISH OR AUTHORIZE the establishment of a public body or agency to undertake in a county or municipal corporation (other than Baltimore City) the activities authorized by this section, and may provide that any or all of the powers, except the power of taxation, herein authorized to be granted to such county or municipal corporation shall be vested in such public body or agency or in any existing public body or agency.

(D) THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY MAY PLACE SUCH OTHER AND FURTHER RESTRICTIONS OR LIMITATIONS ON THE EXERCISE OF ANY OF THE POWERS PROVIDED FOR IN THIS SECTION, AS IT MAY DEEM PROPER AND EXPEDIENT.

(e) The provisions of this section are independent of, and shall in no way affect, the powers granted under Article XIB of the Constitution of Maryland, title "City of Baltimore—Land Development and Redevelopment." ALSO, THE POWER PROVIDED IN THIS SECTION FOR THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO ENACT PUBLIC LOCAL LAWS AUTHORIZING ANY MUNICIPAL CORPORATION OR ANY COUNTY TO CARRY OUT URBAN RENEWAL PROJECTS PREVAILS OVER THE RESTRICTIONS CONTAINED IN ARTICLE 11A "LOCAL LEGISLATION" AND IN ARTICLE 11E "MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS" OF THIS CONSTITUTION.

There is hereby created a People's Court of Baltimore City. Said Court shall consist originally of a Chief Judge and two Associate Judges; the number of such Judges may thereafter be increased or decreased by the General Assembly by law but no such decrease shall affect the term of any Judge then in office or his right to stand for election for further terms as hereinafter provided. The Judges of said Court shall have the qualifications prescribed by Section 2 of this Article and shall have practiced law in the City of Baltimore for a total period of at least five years; shall hold office subject to the provisions of Sections 3 and 4 of this Article with regard to retirement and removal from office; and shall receive from the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore City such compensation as shall be fixed by law by the General Assembly, which shall not be diminished during continuance in office.

The Governor shall appoint to said Court, to take office on the first Monday of May, 1941, one Associate Judge for a term expiring December 31, 1942, one Associate Judge for a term expiring December 31, 1944, and a Chief Judge for a term expiring December 31, 1946; and, upon the creation of any additional office on said Court by increase in the number of Judges pursuant to this Section, shall appoint an Associate Judge for such term, not exceeding eight years and expiring on the thirty-first day of December immediately following a Congressional election, as the law creating such office shall prescribe. If any vacancy occurs during any such original term, the Governor shall appoint a successor to serve for the remainder of such term. After the expiration of said original terms, the terms of office of said Court shall be for eight years from the expiration of the preceding term, and shall be filled as follows:

(1) Any incumbent Judge of said Court shall be eligible, at the Congressional election immediately preceding the expiration of his period of appointment or term, for election or re-election to succeed himself (a) for a full term of eight years, except as provided in (b) hereof, or (b) for the unexpired remainder of the current eight year term, if his appointment will expire before the end of such term. [No] Any QUALIFIED person [other than] including an incumbent Judge shall be eligible for election to said Court. PROVIDED, HOWEVER, THAT ANY JUDGE WHO IS IN OFFICE WHEN THIS ACT TAKES EFFECT SHALL BE ENTITLED TO HAVE HIS NAME PLACED UPON THE BALLOT WITH NO PARTY DESIGNATION AND WITH NO OPPOSING CANDIDATE; AND THE VOTERS SHALL CAST THEIR VOTES FOR OR AGAINST THE CONTINUANCE IN OFFICE OF SAID JUDGE.

(2) Whenever a vacancy shall occur on said Court from any cause the Governor shall appoint to said Court a Judge who shall hold office under such appointment until the thirty-first day of December immediately following the first Congressional election occurring six months or more after the date of his appointment. No Judge of said Court, who has stood for election to succeed himself and not been elected, shall thereafter be appointed to said Court, and no Judge of said Court, who has failed to stand for election when eligible, shall be appointed to succeed himself.

(3) In order to qualify for election or re-election [an incumbent Judge] all candidates shall file with the Supervisors of Elections of Baltimore City not later than thirty days before the date of the applicable election a certificate [signed and duly acknowledged, stating the basis of his eligibility and the term or remainder of term for which he is eligible for election. Thereupon, the name of such Judge, together with a statement of the term or remainder of term for which he is eligible, shall be placed upon the ballot to be used in said City in such election, with no party designation whatever and with no opposing candidate, with space provided to permit any voter to cast his vote for or against the continuance in office of such Judge; if the votes cast for the continuance in office of such Judge represent a majority of all the votes cast for or against his continuance in office, such Judge shall hold office for the unexpired remainder of the term or for the full term of eight years, as the case may be.] of candidacy in a form to be supplied by the Supervisors.

Unless his office shall have been abolished pursuant to this section, each Judge of said Court shall continue to hold office after the expiration of his period of appointment or term until a successor shall qualify. As used in this section, "Congressional election" means any of the biennial elections at which members of the House of Representatives are regularly chosen.

Said Court shall have such jurisdiction (which may be made exclusive as to any class or classes of civil cases in Baltimore City), with such right of appeal, therefrom, and the Chief Judge and Associate Judges thereof shall have such powers and duties, as the General Assembly shall prescribe from time to time by law. The Judges of said Court shall have full power to regulate by rules the administration, procedure and practice of said Court; such rules shall have the force of law until rescinded or modified by said Judges or the General Assembly. Unless otherwise provided by law, (1) all powers granted by this section or by law to said Court or the Judges thereof as a body may be exercised by a majority of the Judges thereof, and (2) said Court shall not be a Court of Record.

There shall be a Chief Constable of said Court, who shall perform therein the duties prescribed for Clerks of Court by Section 10 of this Article and such other duties as shall be prescribed by law or by rule of said Court. Such Chief Constable shall be appointed, in the manner hereinafter prescribed, by the Judges of said Court; and such Chief Constable shall appoint, in the manner hereinafter prescribed, all original, subsequent and additional constables and clerks employed pursuant to this section, and shall supervise and direct the work of all such constables and clerks. There shall be appointed originally fourteen such constables and sixteen such clerks; the number of either may, on the joint recommendation of said Court and said Chief Constable, be increased by the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore City; no vacancy in the position of any constable or clerk, however arising, shall be filled by said Chief Constable unless the Judges of said Court and said Chief Constable shall expressly find that the filling of such vacancy is necessary for the efficient operation of said Court. The positions of said Chief Constable and of all such constables and clerks shall be positions in the Classified City Service of Baltimore and the provisions of the Charter of said City with respect to said City Service are hereby expressly made applicable thereto, provided that, the Chief Constable at the time this amendment becomes effective shall continue and remain in said position and immediately become a member of said Classified City Service of Baltimore; all such positions shall be classified by the City Service Commission and all appointments, promotions, transfers, re-instatements, and removals with respect to such positions shall be made only in accordance with the provisions, rules and regulations of said Classified City Service in force from time to time. Such Chief Constable and all of such other constables and all such clerks shall receive from the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore City such compensation as said Mayor and City Council shall prescribe. Such constables and clerks shall perform such duties as may now or hereafter be prescribed by law or rule of Court.

After adoption of this section no constable shall be appointed by the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore City pursuant to Section 42 or Section 43 of this Article IV, but constables in office upon the adoption of this section shall hold office for the remainder of their terms, and the constables first appointed under this section shall take office at the expiration of such terms.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (Three-fifths of all members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 40A of Article 3 of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", sub-title "Eminent Domain", the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State as herein provided, to become Section 40A of Article 3 of the Constitution of Maryland.

40A. Same—Baltimore City [,] and Montgomery County.

The General Assembly shall enact no law authorizing private property to be taken for public use without just Compensation, to be agreed upon between the parties, or awarded by a Jury, being first paid or tendered to the party entitled to such compensation, but where such property is situated in Baltimore City and is desired by this State or by the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, the General Assembly may provide for the appointment of appraisers by a Court of Record to value such property, and that, upon payment of the amount of such valuation to the party entitled to compensation, or into Court and securing the payment of any further sum that may be awarded by a jury, such property may be taken [,] and where such property is situated in Montgomery County and in the judgment of and upon a finding by the County Council of said County that there is immediate need therefor for right of way for County roads or streets, the County Council may provide that such property may be taken immediately upon payment therefor to the owner or owners thereof, or into court, such amount as an appraiser appointed by a Court of Record shall estimate to be the fair market value of such property, provided that the Council shall secure the payment of any further sum that may subsequently be awarded by a jury. THIS SECTION SHALL NOT APPLY IN MONTGOMERY COUNTY IF THE PROPERTY ACTUALLY TO BE TAKEN INCLUDES BUILDINGS OR IMPROVEMENTS.

CHAPTER NO. 642

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts", increasing the number of Judges in Prince George's County, RELATING TO THE ELIGIBILITY OF MEMBERS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY FOR THE OFFICE OF JUDGE, and correcting an error in and removing obsolete language from said section and submitting this amendment to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (Three-fifths of all Members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts", the same if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State as herein provided, to become Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of Maryland:

21. From and after January 1, 1955, there shall be in the third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh circuits at least one judge for each county, who shall be a resident of the county in which he shall hold office, and who shall be elected by the voters thereof, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. The number of judges for any of the circuits or for any of the counties may be increased or decreased by the General Assembly from time to time, and any vacancy so created shall be filled as provided in Section 5 of this Article except that in the third, fourth, fifth, sixth, and seventh judicial circuits there shall never be less than one judge for each circuit and in all of the circuits there shall never be less than three for each circuit. The senior judge in length of service shall be the chief judge of the circuit; the other judge or judges shall be associate judges. In the first and second judicial circuits no two of said judges of the Circuit Court shall at the time of their election or appointment, or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed, reside in any one county. In the first and second judicial circuits, in case any candidate or candidates for judge at any election shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of the circuit, then and in that event there shall be declared elected only that candidate or those candidates residing in said county, in the order of the votes received, whose election would provide the permitted number of judges from said county, and also the candidate or candidates residing in some other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of judges duly qualified as to residence shall not be elected at any election, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices. From and after December 1, 1954, there shall be not less than three judges resident in Montgomery County and not less than two judges resident in Anne Arundel County, [and in Prince George's County,] and not less than three judges resident in Baltimore County. From and after December 1, 1960, there shall be not less than FOUR judges resident in Prince George's County. [The vacancies in Garrett, Montgomery, and Prince George's County created by the adoption of this amendment shall be filled as provided in Section 5 of this Article.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this article the vacancies in Anne Arundel, Baltimore, and St. Mary's Counties created by the adoption of this amendment shall not be filled by appointment as provided in Section 5 of this Article; but at the first biennial general election for Representatives in Congress, after the adoption of this amendment a judge shall be elected by the qualified voters of Anne Arundel, Baltimore, and St. Mary's Counties, respectively, to fill such vacancy in each county. Any other vacancy in the office of Judge of the Circuit Court for Anne Arundel, Baltimore, and St. Mary's Counties shall be filled as provided in Section 3 and 5 of this article.]

The said judges shall hold such terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now prescribed or may hereafter be prescribed by rules or regulations by the Court of Appeals or otherwise by law. One judge in each of the first seven circuits shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business; and the said judges, or any of them, may hold special terms of their Courts, when in their discretion, the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary.

All provisions of the Constitution of Maryland and all Acts of the General Assembly relating to the Court of Appeals or any other courts, and all rules heretofore adopted by the Court of Appeals, not inconsistent with the provisions of the sections amended or added by this amendment, shall remain in full force and effect unless and until amended or repealed by proper authority. All salaries now prescribed by law for associate judges of the Circuit Courts shall continue to apply to all judges (including chief judges) of the Circuit Court. No member of the General Assembly at which either of these amendments was proposed, or at which the number OR SALARY of judges for any of the EIGHT circuits or for any of the counties may be OR MAY HAVE BEEN increased or decreased by the General Assembly from time to time, if otherwise qualified, shall be ineligible for appointment or election as judge of the Court of Appeals or any other court by reason of his membership in such General Assembly.

In the event and to the extent of any inconsistency between the provisions of any section amended or added by these amendments and any of the other provisions of this Constitution or the provisions of any existing law, the provisions of the sections amended or added shall prevail, and such OTHER PROVISIONS SHALL BE REPEALED OR ABROGATED to the extent of such inconsistency, except Section 35A of Article III of this Constitution; provided, however, that in the event of any inconsistency between the provisions of the sections thus amended or added and any of the other provisions of THE SECTIONS THUS AMENDED OR ADDED AND ANY OF THE OTHER PROVISIONS OF this Constitution as amended by any other amendments which may be adopted at the same time or times as these amendments, i.e., at the election held in November, 1944, or at the election held in November, 1954, OR AT THE ELECTION HELD IN NOVEMBER, 1960, the changes made by these amendments and all such other amendments to this Constitution shall all be given effect.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election, to be held in this State in the year 1960, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

CHAPTER NO. 664

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 17 of Article II of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Executive Department", LIMITING THE provision for further consideration of CERTAIN BILLS by General Assembly in event Bill is vetoed by Governor following adjournment of General Assembly or which fails to become law by reason of not having been signed by Governor following adjournment of General Assembly, and submitting this amendment to the legally qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (Three-fifths of all the Members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 17 of Article II of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Executive Department", the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become a part of the Constitution of Maryland:

17. To guard against hasty or partial legislation and encroachments of the Legislative Department upon the co-ordinate Executive and Judicial Departments, every Bill which shall have passed the House of Delegates, and the Senate shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the Governor of the State; if he approves he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it with his objections to the House in which it originated, which House shall enter the objections at large on its Journal and proceed to reconsider the Bill; if, after such reconsideration, three-fifths of the members elected to that House shall pass the Bill, it shall be sent with the objections to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if it pass by three-fifths of the members elected to that House it shall become a law; but in all such cases the votes of both Houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for and against the Bill shall be entered on the Journal of each House respectively. If any Bill shall not be returned by the Governor within six days (Sundays excepted), after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he signed it, unless the General Assembly shall, by adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law.

Any bill which is vetoed by the Governor following the adjournment of the General Assembly, or any bill which fails to become a law by reason of not having been signed by the Governor following the adjournment of the General Assembly, shall be returned to the House in which it originated, immediately after said House shall have organized at the next regular or special session of the General Assembly. Said bill may then be reconsidered according to the procedure specified hereinabove. If the bill is passed over the veto of the Governor, it shall take effect on June 1 following, unless the bill is an emergency measure to take effect when passed. NO SUCH VETOED BILL SHALL BE RETURNED TO THE LEGISLATURE WHEN A NEW GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF MARYLAND HAS BEEN ELECTED AND SWORN SINCE THE PASSAGE OF THE VETOED BILL.

The Governor shall have power to disapprove of any item or items of any Bills making appropriations of money embracing distinct items, and the part or parts of the Bill approved shall be the law, and the item or items of appropriations disapproved shall be void unless repassed according to the rules or limitations prescribed for the passage of other Bills over the Executive veto.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election, to be held in this State in the year 1960, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (Three-fifths of all members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following sections be and they are hereby proposed as amendments to Sections 6 and 7 of Article 2 of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Executive Department", the same if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State as herein provided, to become a part of the Constitution of Maryland:

Technical Employes Being Sought For ABL Program

The Hercules Powder Company has inaugurated a "crash" program for the employment of technical personnel at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory.

Officials of the company said the program is necessary because of an incresed work load at the local installation, adding that the personnel needs have not been met by the usual effort of technical recruitment.

Dr. W. R. Lowstuter, technical employment superintendent at the Pinto facility, said the crash program is aimed at obtaining between 60 and 70 technical men at ABL within the next nine weeks.

Assisting in the recruitment, he added, are the personnel departments at Hercules plans in Wilmington, Del., and Bacchus, Utah.

Dr. Lowstuter said the demand for more technical men is a natural growth in relation to the Polaris program at ABL. The additional help is required for research and development on other units, as well as Polaris, he explained.

The need for technical men is so great, Dr. Lowstuter continued, that employes at ABL and other Hercules installations have been requested to furnish names of friends who may be dissatisfied with their present employment. Students who will complete their college educations next June also are being sought, Dr. Lowstuter said.

The October issue of the Hercules Mixer, a magazine dealing with that firm and its employes, carries a full page appeal for help by Clark Kingery, director of personnel for the firm's technical recruitment section.

Kingery says: "We need 60 technical men (at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory) right now and will need some 200 more in the next 12 months as we move ahead in the missiles field and in commercial operations.

"ABL, Bacchus and Wilmington teams, aided by special advertising and city recruiting, are working aggressively on this problem.

"We urge all Herculites to pitch in, too, with referrals of qualified technical men in your area to personnel department."

The Pinto facility has a total of some 1,700 employes.

Foley Cites Politics On Postage Charges

Democratic Rep. John R. Foley who is seeking reelection from Maryland's Sixth District, told a breakfast meeting of local party leaders and workers yesterday that the Post Office Department demand that he pay for newsletters sent under his free-mailing privilege last month is nothing more than "petty politics."

Further, Foley said that the matter is one between "an individual and the federal government" and that he will have more to say about that later on.

Foley told the breakfast gathering at Fort Cumberland Hotel the first he knew of the Post Office Department action was through the newspapers. Then, a month later, he got a letter from the general counsel for the postmaster general's office. He never received a complaint, nor has he been given the opportunity to discuss it with officials of the counsel, Foley said.

"Look at the timing. Why wait a month, then release to the complaining party a copy of the letter sent to me? Need I say more?," Foley asked.

Foley pointed out that he had led or been instrumental in defeating every major proposal forwarded by Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield, "including department wage increases and a boost in some mailing rates and again asked "Do I need to say more?"

Post Office Department officials said the Foley newsletters contained references to the presidential race and stating his support of the Kennedy-Johnson Democratic national ticket. As a result of the reference, it was ruled that they were not "official business" and the letters could not be franked.

Deputy General Counsel Leo G. Knoll said the department received a complaint about the Foley newsletters in September from George Fisher, described as associated with the campaign of Foley's Republican opponent, Charles McC. Mathias of Frederick.

Foley called making the ruling public a "reprehensible procedure by a Republican Postmaster General's counsel" and accused the Department's general counsel Herbert B. Warburton of "working with my opponent" by disclosing a private communication containing an allegation against him.

At one time, Foley referred to Summerfield as "King Arthur" and to his cohorts as "little knights running around on hobby horses."

As for Mathias, his GOP opponent, Foley pictured him as a man "in need of help from the Republican Party."

Rep. Foley termed Mathias' record as a member of the Maryland House of Delegates "the worst" and pointed out Mathias had failed to vote 530 times.

"To think that he (Mathias) could be so neglectful and still run for public office," Foley said.

As for his own activity as a member of Congress, Foley urged those present at the breakfast gathering and the public to "look at the record. I am asking that the people share with me what is contained in the printed record not only for 1960 but for 1959," he added.

Foley said in two years he has had 12 bills enacted into law, four more than former Republican Rep. Dewitt S. Hyde whom Foley defeated in the last congressional election two years ago.

As for his outlook this election Foley said he is "most optimistic." He said he appreciated the help given him by local leaders and workers and was here today to have them tell him what he could do to strengthen not only his own campaign but that of the national Democratic ticket in Allegany County.

Prior to the breakfast meeting, Foley had visited the B&O Railroad shop workers at the yards below the subway on Virginia Avenue. He also was scheduled for a tour of the Times-News newspaper plant and a meeting with Queen City Brewery workers.

His tour took him to Frostburg to campaign in the business district and then west into Garrett County for stops at Grantsville, Bittinger, McHenry and Deep Creek Lake. A shoeleather campaign was planned for Oakland's business district late in the afternoon.

Foley intends to return to Allegany and Garrett counties November 1 and 2, according to Joseph O'Connell, assistant campaign manager.

In Support Of Nixon And Lodge

It's traditional in American politics to jump on everything the other fellow says and to make an issue of it. Unfortunately, this often leads to the development of whole new phony issues in a campaign, to the confusion and consternation of the voter.

Several such have arisen in the current campaign for the Presidency, but most either have been so trivial as to have failed to get serious attention, or they have dropped out of the campaign for lack of momentum.

But no phony issues are the questions of experience and seriousness of purpose. Senator Kennedy and Vice President Nixon have been in public life for approximately the same length of time, but the difference in their experience has been great. Senator Kennedy has spent several years in the House and the Senate. Vice President Nixon has had a taste of this part of public life also, but for the past eight years he has been the most active and effective Vice President in the history of the United States. No man ever has had more or better training for the Presidency. No Vice President ever has been entrusted with such important tasks as has Vice President Nixon, and few men have served their country so energetically. The Vice President has shown himself, time and again, to be remarkably well informed on many aspects of American government. His work for President Eisenhower repeatedly has shown the results of long study and hard work.

Add to this the wise selection by the Republican National Convention of Henry Cabot Lodge as Mr. Nixon's running mate, and we see a combination of two types of experience that has rarely, if ever, been found on a national ticket. Ambassador Lodge has an extensive background in foreign affairs, having served admirably in the United Nations during most of the major crises that have threatened to divide that body since its inception.

It is this combination of great experience and unquestioned seriousness of purpose that leads The Cumberland News to urge the election of Richard M. Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge.

These Days

The Battle Of Quotations

Senator John Kennedy has an excellent memory and quotes widely. Also in the Third Debate, he came well-stocked with all sorts of documents. He quoted Republicans but not Democrats. He said nothing of the attitude of President Truman on the subject of Matsu and Quemoy. President Truman is out campaigning for Senator Kennedy and has told anybody who votes for Nixon to go to hell, which shocked not a few Baptists who avoid such language as a matter of religious preference. Of course, President Truman employs the language of his preference and has a good time doing it.

President Eisenhower in September 1958 had said that the United States would block the Red Chinese invasion of Matsu and Quemoy; that the United States would defend the principle that aggressive force must be repelled. This has been American policy throughout the controversy over these islands both in the Truman and Eisenhower Administrations. In fact, it is the essence of what has come to be known as the Truman Doctrine of Containment.

Harry Truman on September 14, 1958, in a newspaper article, said:

"The probing tactics of the Chinese Communists over Quemoy and Matsu are part of a reckless campaign to determine whether they can get full support of the Kremlin and whether we will stand up to their use of force to take over Quemoy, Matsu and Formosa (Taiwan)." The mission of American forces in the area was purely defensive—"to prevent any mad adventure which could set off a 3d world war"—and posed "no threat to the Chinese people or any other people." Until "there is absolute assurance that the Communists have abandoned their aim of territorial expansion, I cannot see that we have any other choice but to meet them and thwart them at every point where it is necessary. It would be folly and dangerous for us to abandon Formosa to the Communists as long as they are aggression-minded. . . . Formosa could be the launching point for Communist assaults on the Philippines, Korea and Japan. . . .

"I do not go along with some of our leaders—including some of my own party—as to the extent of our interests or concern in . . . Quemoy and Matsu. They miss the main point: This is not a situation created by anyone but the Chinese Communists, who are attempting by force to achieve what should be decided by talks and negotiations. . . . The situation in Quemoy and Matsu cannot be isolated into a local issue . . ." (Quoted from "Facts on File.")

This is an altogether correct statement of the case. The facts are right; the evaluation is right. It is with this position that Senator Kennedy quarrels. Senator Kennedy also quotes John Foster Dulles but not accurately. Dulles's position was made clear on September 4, 1958, when he said:

"(2) The United States is bound by treaty to help to defend Taiwan from armed attack, and the President is authorized by joint resolution of Congress to employ the armed forces of the United States for the securing and protecting of related positions such as Quemoy and Matsu.

"(3) Any attempt on the part of the Chinese Communists to seize these positions or any of them would be a crude violation of the principles upon which world order is based, namely, that no country should use armed force to seize new territory."

It is not understandable why Senator Kennedy picks this particular moment in world affairs to telegraph his punches to the Red Chinese. They will unquestionably take every advantage of such a situation. Unless Senator Kennedy states his case more conservatively, there is real danger that should Senator Kennedy become President, the Chinese Communists will take immediate action on Matsu and Quemoy, just as after Dean Acheson stated that we would not defend Korea, the Chinese Communists marched on Korea. And there is no reason why they should not take Senator Kennedy at his word.

Undoubtedly we need a thorough debate on our foreign policy but this so-called debate between Nixon and Kennedy is no debate at all. Actually it is mere affirmation without adequate refutation and no production of substantial and irrefutable data. If Senator Kennedy really expects to give the Red Chinese a free hand regarding Matsu and Quemoy, will he give them a free hand regarding Ladakh in Kashmir, and Nepal? Does that mean that when the United States is opposing French imperialism in Africa, it supports Communist imperialism in Asia? It makes no sense.

Quemoy-Matsu Debate Is Important Because Of Possible Red Attack

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — With Prime Minister Nehru of India and British intelligence both warning the State Department that the Chinese Reds expect to stage a military showdown over the offshore islands this fall, the Nixon-Kennedy debate over Quemoy-Matsu is the most important of the entire campaign. It could involve war.

It is also the most complicated and difficult to understand. It also involves a deep-rooted difference between the Democratic party and right-wing Republicans. Finally it involves a consistent, heavily financed propaganda and lobbying campaign by the Chiang Kai-shek family to influence certain senators and public officials. This is the group which contributed to Mr. Nixon's campaign in 1950, 1952 and 1956.

To understand the depth and bitterness of the controversy, you have to go back to the 1952 presidential election when both Eisenhower and Nixon campaigned on the charge that Truman and Acheson had failed to unleash Chiang Kai-shek to permit him to attack and retake the Chinese mainland. It was a good vote-getting issue. Senators McCarthy and Jenner went further and implied that Gen. George Marshall, former Ambassador to China, was a traitor.

And after he was elected, Eisenhower in his State-of-the-Union message on Feb. 1, 1953 announced that Chiang was unleashed. The 7th Fleet was removed from between Formosa and the mainland, and Chiang was now free to retake China.

It was a great moment. A campaign pledge was kept. The goal of the China Lobby was achieved.

Chiang Put On Leash Again

But a short time later, without any blaring announcement, and without attracting any more attention than necessary, Chiang was quietly put back on the leash again. The 7th Fleet was again stationed between Formosa and the mainland. This was partly to protect Chiang from attack, partly to make sure that Chiang did not make any raids on the mainland.

For it had become just as clear to President Eisenhower as it had been to President Truman that Chiang had no intention of invading the Chinese mainland on his own. His intention was to get involved on the mainland to such an extent that the United States would have to come to bail him out. This meant major war, and Eisenhower did not want to risk major war over the offshore islands any more than Truman did.

However, Chiang continued to hold Quemoy and Matsu as well as the Tachen islands, about 12 miles off the China coast and 200 miles north of Quemoy and Matsu. And in early 1955, the Red Chinese began staging raids on the Tachens, and captured one of them, Yikiang. They captured it in heavy seas, despite the fact that it was defended by about 1,000 Nationalist troops. They also took it about one month ahead of the time we had expected.

This scared the wits out of both Secretary of State Dulles and the President. Five months previously Ike had called a meeting of the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Denver to decide on the defense of these offshore islands. They were then chiefly concerned with Quemoy and Matsu. Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman, was vigorously for their defense even if it meant the risk of war. Gen. Matt Ridgway, Army Chief of Staff, was just as vigorously opposed.

The President withheld any decision. The decision he had to make was essentially that which Kennedy and Nixon are debating now—whether these islands, only a few miles off the China coast, were worth defending.

Chiang Survived Rebuff

By the time January, 1955 rolled around and the Reds had captured Yikiang in the Tachen islands, Ike still had not made any decision. But he soon made a decision regarding the Tachens. And he ruled against his own military.

His military advisers, who had been divided about Quemoy and Matsu, were unanimous about the Tachens. Quemoy and Matsu, one only three miles from the coast, were only important as steppingstones to invade China, and we did not want to get involved in an invasion. They were not considered important, despite present contentions to the contrary, for the defense of Formosa. But the Tachens were important to the defense of Formosa and Ike's military advisers were unanimous that the Tachens were worth a fight.

They so advised first because we had a radar station on the Tachens which could warn of Communist air raids approaching Formosa; second, because Red China wanted the Tachens as a jet base which would be much closer for attacks on Formosa.

Despite this unanimous military advice, Eisenhower decided that the Tachens must be completely evacuated. To save Chiang's face, it was arranged that he would request the evacuation, but this was a cover-up. Eisenhower made the decision, and Chiang was so furious that John Foster Dulles had to fly to Formosa to pacify him.

This is what Nixon fears may happen if we now show any signs of weakness regarding Quemoy and Matsu.

However, Chiang calmed down, took the Tachen evacuation in his stride, and a few weeks later another crisis arose over Quemoy and Matsu, which the Joint Chiefs of Staff did not regard as anywhere near as important as the Tachens. By this time, April 1955, our British and Canadian allies were genuinely concerned, and Foreign Minister Lester Pearson had quietly but bluntly warned the State Department that Canada would not go to war over these offshore islands.

Anthony Eden, then Prime Minister of England, told the White House the same thing. By this time, Congress was also aroused over the question of getting dragged into war, and there ensued a public debate not dissimilar to that now taking place between the two presidential candidates.

Republicans Can Still Lose Minnesota This Year

By Joseph Alsop

SUNRISE TOWNSHIP, Minn.

You would have to go a very long way to find another stretch of countryside more glorious than Sunrise Township, in Chicago County, on a fine, bright-aired autumn day.

This is a gently rolling land, with broad fields, and many wood lots full of pheasants, and small white farm houses with big red barns. In autumn, this land borrows the colors of its own cock pheasants—the bronzes and red browns and sharp reds of the oaks and other hardwoods marvelously mingling with the tender greens of the feathery pines. So much beauty, you feel, must bring with it a good life.

Except for the most industrious and the most fortunate, this land is not providing a good life. You do not notice it at first, because the houses and barns have not had time to fall into decay; but a good many of the Sunrise Township farms have actually been abandoned in recent years. To many more farms, the farm families can only cling by taking city jobs to swell their incomes. Behind Sunrise Township's surface loveliness, in truth, there is the widespread tragedy of the American family-sized farm.

"We used to get by pretty well," the people tell you, over and over again. "But everything we have to buy costs more now, and everything we have to sell brings less. So there ain't many that get by anymore."

The friendly Sunrise Township people are also pretty bitter; and the bitterness is all the more impressive because most of these people are visibly tough and self-reliant. But in Sunrise Township, the pull of religion is at least as strong as the pressure of economic circumstance. This is a region of stern, church-going Protestantism. The farmers' resentments are not being converted into anti-Republican votes, because of Sen. John F. Kennedy's Catholic faith.

"I can't vote Republican because I'm a farmer. I can't vote for Kennedy because I'm a Protestant. So I'm just not going to vote at all," says wiry Harold Olson, a Democratic member of the Township Board, who gave his vote to Adlai Stevenson in 1956.

There were others like Olson among the Stevenson voters. And among the Eisenhower voters, there were parallel cases—farmers too disgusted with conditions to vote for the Republicans another time, but unwilling to vote for Kennedy because of his faith.

Over all, Eugene Newhall and Eugene Malott of the St. Paul Pioneer Press and Dispatch, and this reporter, talked to 39 Sunrise Township farmers and farm wives in the course of a long day's driving along the Township's sandy roads. In 1956, these people had given eighteen votes to Eisenhower and seventeen to Stevenson with four not voting. In 1958, they had cast sixteen votes for Gov. Orville Freeman and only thirteen for his Republican opponent. They now gave sixteen votes to Vice President Nixon and sixteen to Sen. Kennedy, with the rest undecided or actually determined not to vote for President this time. Even if you passed over the rock-ribbed Republicans, who were voting first for their party and only secondarily against a Catholic, the votes of very nearly a quarter of all the people we questioned were in some measure influenced by religious feeling.

A good indicator of the influence was the high vote for Sen. Hubert Humphrey, who ran a mile ahead of his Republican opponent among the people we talked to. As most of the religiously influenced farmers also said they liked Kennedy as a man and preferred the Democratic farm program, Kennedy would probably be getting a Humphrey-size vote if he were not a Catholic. At the same time, resentment of existing conditions was badly hurting Gov. Orville Freeman, although he is a Democrat. Where Humphrey ran well ahead of Kennedy, Freeman ran well behind.

The peace issue, which the Republicans have allegedly patented, had little apparent importance in Sunrise Township. To be sure, there was old Victor Ranberg, who declared belligerently: "I'm voting Republican like I always do, because I went for that Wilson in 1916, when he promised to keep us out of war; and he had me in uniform before I knew what had hit me." But the main Sunrise Township drama was the conflict between economic discontent and religious feeling. It is both preventing the big gains the Democrats might have made from the farmer's plight, and limiting the Republican gain from dislike of Kennedy's Catholicism.

Judging by the reports of expert local observers, this conflict is producing much the same sort of result all over Minnesota's predominantly Protestant farm areas. President Eisenhower's Minnesota majority in 1956 was by no means enormous. The Republicans can still lose this state, if Kennedy does much better than Adlai Stevenson in the big cities and in the German Catholic farm counties. These other voting groups will give the final answer in Minnesota, if Sunrise Township is at all indicative.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

FEDERAL POLICE — FBI director J. Edgar Hoover had some specific things in mind when he spoke out again recently against establishment of a national police force.

Hoover has long opposed such a move, but has been silent recently about the dangers it carries with it. His position is that such a force would weaken state and local police organizations by providing a new place for them to shift the burdens, financial and otherwise, of law enforcement.

Such a force, particularly in the wrong hands, could develop into an onerous "police state" system, which could curtail America's traditional freedoms and be a tempting tool of unscrupulously ambitious politicians.

Hoover is aware of mounting demands on Capitol Hill for such a national police force to be thrown into the fight against organized crime. The congressional backers of such a proposal argue that crime has grown too big for any locality or state to handle, and that only the power of the federal government can check it.

The FBI director insists, however, that big crime can be successfully combated if existing police apparatus can be brought by an aroused public opinion to do the job assigned to it.

SMOG — The government has established a "smog warning" system for 36 states east of the Rocky Mountains. The warnings will be issued by the Weather Bureau research station, but will go normally only to air pollution control officials and representatives of industry.

The warnings are based on lack of air movement, as it has been found that the danger of smog is greater when air is abnormally calm. For this reason, the bulletins will be know as "stagnation bulletins," not smog warnings.

It is hoped the warnings will permit cities to curb traffic, industrial and other sources of pollution to keep smog at a minimum.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The women in my family are fallers. They can fall anywhere, under the most sedate circumstances. It is neither an accomplishment nor a failing — merely a characteristic. They are not particular where they fall nor about how many people are looking. I have a cousin who saw a poor picture at the State Theatre and came out of the balcony and took a header all the way down the stairs.

My sainted maternal grandmother, Mary McSwiggen Tier, was walking through a schoolyard minding her own business. She flipped almost upside down and broke an arm. My mother-in-law Maggy was not related by blood to the rest of the collapsing Bishops, but she could fall down if a stranger said hello.

Frank Dunning, my father-in-law, was a fine man and he was never known to fall unless the Bishop women were around. The day I was married, he came up the aisle with his daughter on his arm and, when he approached the altar, he went down on one knee and couldn't get up. This is a reverse fall. Everybody waited patiently, and Mr. Dunning hiked himself several times, but couldn't get off the floor.

He glared up at me and whispered: "Take her." So I did. He still looked like a loner at a crap game back in the aisle. My mother was one of the most accomplished fallers I have ever seen. She was tiny and fragile and the falls never did anything worse than bruise her feelings. She held her nose too high, and couldn't see a hassock in the middle of a rug. She did some fancy half gainers in her time.

The subject occurred to me yesterday when I heard that a friend of mine visited Jack Sullivan's Lodge with a girl friend. They motored down to Spring Lake and falling was the farthest thing from their minds as they dined on rare roast beef and scotch.

My friend became so convivial that he insisted on joining the band. He played the drums while Jack and Dorothy Sullivan did a cha-cha. When he left, he went out to the parking lot and was gallantly opening the car door for his girl friend when she fell down.

He turned to look, as a gentleman should and removed the cigar from his mouth. "Millie," he said reproachfully, "what the hell are you doing down there?"

Once, in Highlands, my mother-in-law fell down while waiting for a taxi. It wasn't a special fall. She did it just to keep in practice. Maggy had one trick that the others didn't. She was stout and she had a habit of backing into a chair. Sometimes, she sat when no chair was there.

The most concerted falling I have ever seen occurred at a wedding reception. One of Aunt Margaret McCarthy's children was married and the affair was held in the Ocean Social Club. There was a lobby on the ground floor and a couple of reception rooms. In the basement were four bowling alleys and the powder room.

The falling didn't commence until after the toast to the bride and bridegroom. The place was full of relatives from all sides of the family—some not even speaking to others — and a stout woman sat on a cane chair and one of the legs collapsed. That started it.

Afterward, it was like an epidemic. Women were falling all over the premises. Men were picking a woman up and dusting her off while watching another one collapse a few feet away. This unnerved the headwaiter because he had left orders to water the highballs and he figured that if the women were getting this much mileage out of the drinks, someone in the kitchen had double-crossed him.

My mother, who was always the epitome of dignity, came up the basement steps on my father's arm and suddenly left him and went all the way back to the bottom. She wasn't hurt. I can recall my father saying sympathetically: "For God's sake, Jenny!"

Maggy, the champ of them all, refused to fall. She couldn't make three steps without pausing for breath, but she didn't collapse once. My sister Adele was walking through the center hall talking to a girl friend when she spun into the rug. It wasn't easy, because there was nothing to fall over.

My wife, resplendan in a brown taffeta dress, managed to start a tap dance on the stairway and went up one and back two until she gave up and went to the bottom. Best of all was Aunt Mary Foley, who went downstairs to locate the powder room.

Somebody said it was on the other side of the bowling alleys. Aunt Mary decided to take a short cut. She went across the alleys and I stood fascinated, watching her skid, spin, execute a fast Charleston, and come to rest on the back of her shoulders between the alleys.

Once, when Frank Gerace said: "Mr. Bishop, I'm crazy about Gayle and I hope she falls for me too," I just growled: "Watch your language, kid."

Removal Of Larynx Doesn't Prevent Speech

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The lost chord clubs in the United States and Canada are a source of inspiration for men and women who have had the voice box removed and may never be able to speak normally again. Many of their members were doomed to a life of silence until they learned to utter sounds through different methods, such as the burp technique.

The individual is taught to swallow air and force it back up to vibrate against the wall of the esophagus (gullet) and throat. Low pitched sounds are produced and come to life by movements of the tongue, hard palate, lips, and teeth.

It takes 16 hours to three months to learn esophageal speech. Lip sounds such as ba, be, and ma are easiest. The difficult letter is h, whereas s is tough for those with dentures.

Removal of the entire voice box (laryngectomy) is done usually because of advanced cancer of the larynx. No one wants to lose this structure but we have no choice when it is a life-saving procedure. Less radical operations can be done when a malignancy is detected early. It may be possible to preserve speech by removing only part of the vocal cords. In others, one or both cords are removed, depending upon the extent of the growth.

The important feature is early detection which often means the preservation of near normal speech. The earliest sign of cancer in this area is hoarseness, a symptom that should be investigated by a throat specialist when it lasts longer than three weeks. Elimination of the involved tissue is done through radiation or surgery in early cases.

The cause of cancer of the larynx is not known. It is 10 to 17 times more common in men than in women and many victims are smokers.

Education Body Fights College Consolidation

Sees Real Danger In Warfield Plan

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Maryland Association for Higher Education has gone on record as opposed to a study commission's recommendation that three State teachers colleges become branches of the University of Maryland.

Dr. Richard D. Weigle, president of St. John's College and newly-elected president of the association, Thursday released a resolution adopted at the group's recent meeting in Baltimore.

The resolution said "implementation of the Warfield Commission's recommendation would seem to involve a real danger of bringing about uniformity in Maryland's colleges". It warned that "the resulting monopolistic situation" might "ultimately stifle the many important, but much smaller, independent institutions of higher learning."

Variety Is Cited

The group said "part of the genius of the American system of higher education has been the infinite variety and diversity among its colleges, universities and other institutions of postsecondary school learning."

The Warfield report, submitted by Edwin Warfield III, recommended that Frostburg, Salisbury and Towson State Teachers Colleges be converted into branches of the University of Maryland.

The report immediately met with opposition from officials of the department of education who expressed fear it would cripple the State's present teacher-training program.

Gov. Tawes has endorsed Warfield's recommendations "in principle."

Expresses Agreement

The association expressed agreement with that section of the Warfield report calling "for the strengthening of these institutions as liberal arts colleges." The resolution said the State's two other teachers' colleges should likewise be strengthened.

The resolution offered two alternatives to the problem. One would be "to create a new board of trustees for the teachers' colleges." The other proposed "the establishment of individual boards of trustees, one for each institution."

The group said the first alternative would allow the board "to concentrate its entire attention on the needs of these institutions" while the second "would be consistent with the American tradition of decentralized control of education."

Sewage Permit Vital, Health Officer Says

There are still too many people who proceed with the construction of homes without securing a building permit from the county and sewage clearance from the Health Department, according to Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer.

He said the problem which arises, as it did several times during September, is that the Health Department is confronted with home approaching completion on land inadequate to accept individual subsurface sewage disposal.

He said the condition creates a nearly unsolvable problem, short of stopping all construction.

The County Health Board, he said, has placed full responsibility for adequate sewage clearance upon the Allegany County Health Department.

He said that when the correct procedure is followed, Health Department sanitarians made percolation tests to determine the ability of the soil to absorb sewage, and then help the home owner make satisfactory plans for sewage disposal.

He also said the Health Department must have 48 hours notice in applications for final inspections of sewage treatment systems, so it can schedule the work o sanitarians.

Stuffed Cabbage Leaves

10 or 12 large cabbage leaves
2 cups (1 pound) ground beef
2 cups (½-inch) soft bread cubes
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon garlic salt
½ cup chopped onion
2 eggs
1 (No. 1) can condensed tomato soup

Parboil cabbage leaves for five minutes. Combine beef, soft bread cubes, salt, pepper, garlic salt, onion and eggs. Form meat mixture into 10 or 12 oblong patties. Place a meat patty on each of the cabbage leaves. Wrap in cabbage leaf and fasten with toothpicks. Place stuffed cabbage leaves in a cold skillet. Pour undiluted tomato soup over them. Cover and cook at low heat (260°F.) for forty-five minutes.

Yield: 5-6 servings of 2 cabbage rolls each.

Individual Peach Foiled Chicken

(for each serving)
½ 2 pound broiler
½ stick margarine or butter
1 tsp. salt (or to taste)
1 square heavy aluminum foil to completely wrap chicken pepper or other seasonings or herbs can be added if desired)
1 canned peach half
1 tbs. chopped or slivered almonds (optional)
1 tsp. chopped white onion
1 tbs. undiluted Cream of Mushroom soup

Salt the chicken on both sides and place in the middle of the well-greased foil. Put onion, mushroom soup, and margarine cut into squares in the hollow of the chicken. Fold the foil upward, like a box, and seal the edges securely on top. Bake on flat, uncovered, pan in 350° oven 20-25 min. Open top and if not tender put back in oven for a few minutes until done. Remove from oven, fold back the foil from entire surface of chicken, and turn it so skin side is up, being careful not to pierce the foil and lose juice. Sprinkle with the chopped almonds (if used) top with the peach half, baste with the drippings and return to the oven a few minutes until peach is browned slightly and almonds are crisp. Cut off the unnecessary foil to leave a "dish" and serve hot in the foil package. (for variety, try chopped peanuts in place of almonds).

Cooked Salad Dressing

1 tablespoon flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon mustard
1 tablespoon butter
⅔ cup milk
1 whole egg, beaten
¼ cup vinegar

Combine flour, sugar, mustard and salt in top of small double boiler. Add milk gradually. Cook over hot water until thickened, stirring constantly. Stir part of hot mixture into beaten egg. Return egg mixture to double boiler and cook 5 minutes stirring constantly. Add butter and blend. Remove from heat and cool slightly. Add vinegar and beat until smooth. Store covered in refrigerator. Makes 1 cup. Good on many salads.

Corn And Sausage Casserole

1 (1 lb. 4 oz.) can cream style corn
2 eggs, beaten
½ cup finely chopped celery
1 teaspoon salt
4 slices enriched bread
1 cup (½ pound) cooked sausage meat

Combine corn, beaten eggs, celery and salt. Stack bread slices, remove crusts and cut bread, diagonally, in both directions making 4 triangles from each slice. Arrange a layer of 5 bread triangles in the bottom of a (1-quart) greased casserole. Cover with a layer of half the corn mixture. Top with half the sausage meat. Repeat the 3 layers in the same order. Form crust with 6 bread triangles arranged in a cartwheel pattern. Brush bread with sausage drippings. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) for thirty minutes.

Yield: 6 servings

Apple-Raisin-Cottage Cheese Salad

1 tart, unpeeled red apple
¼ cup diced celery
¼ cup raisins
⅔ cup cottage cheese
1 to 2 tablespoons cooked salad dressing

Wash, core and dice apple. Clean and dice celery. Wash the raisins. Combine all with salad dressing. (Thin dressing with milk or any fruit juice.) Spoon cottage cheese on crisp greens, pile apple mixture on top, serve cold. Makes 2 generous servings when a large apple is used.

For a lunch or supper: Baked acorn squash, sausages or bacon, apple-raisin-cottage cheese, salad, hot cornmeal muffins or toast, milk.

Tangy Side Dish

NEW YORK (UPI)—Good with meat or fish dishes—a sour cream and cucumber mixture. Peel and slice 2 medium cucumbers. Pour over them a dressing made by blending together 1 cup of sour cream, 1 teaspoon of salt, 1½ tablespoons of vinegar and 1 small onion, grated. Chill. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Spaghetti Sauce Without Onions

If onions are anathema to you, use this old Mediterranean trick to make a flavorful spaghetti sauce without them. First saute ½ cup (or more) of minced mushroom stems in 3 tablespoons olive oil along with ⅛ teaspoon each basil and orengo. Stir in a can (6 oz.) of tomato paste, then add a cup of water, a bouillon cube, half a teaspoon of sugar and 2 tablespoons minced parsley. Simmer 15 minutes; add salt and pepper to taste, if needed. An added tablespoon or two of an oloroso (cream) type sherry will make it even better.

Though Bermuda's climate is semi-tropical, the island group is nearer to Nova Scotia than it is to Miami.

Stylish, Thrifty Scotch Lamb Chops

Whether you're a career woman or a homemaker cooking for a family, continental cookery usually attracts the eye of every culinary artist.

What makes continental cookery so unusual? Mainly, it's a unique sauce or special combination that lends an air of intrigue.

Also, foreign cookery needn't be a costly venture. As an example you might like to try this recipe for Scotch Lamb Chops. It's a thrifty lamb entree that highlights lamb shoulder chops and barley.

The Isle folks — the English, Irish and Scots — are noted for many recipes which the American homemaker now endorses. Some of these recipes are stews, shortbreads and puddings.

If you're interested in culinary history, you'll realize that barley is used as a staple by the English and Scottish people. That is the reason for this unusual combination of barley and lamb shoulder chops.

The other ingredients found in this recipe are all ones which can be found in your refrigerator or on the pantry shelf.

To begin the preparation of this recipe, first cook 1 cup of barley in 5 cups of water. Just simmer the barley for 1 hour in a tightly covered saucepan. When tender, drain and rinse the barley thoroughly. Next brown 4 lamb shoulder chops in 2 tablespoons lard or drippings. To achieve an even brown on both sides of the chops, brown them at a moderate temperature. Pour off drippings and season the chops with 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Now dissolve 2 bouillon cubes in ¾ cup boiling water. Combine the bouillon with the barley and one 4-ounce can of drained mushrooms, ½ cup finely chopped celery, ¼ cup finely chopped onion, one 16-ounce can of tomatoes, ½ teaspoon marjoram and 1 teaspoon salt. Pour the barley mixture into a greased 8x12-inch baking dish. Place the browned lamb chops on top. Bake in a slow oven (300° F.) 1 hour and 15 minutes.

This recipe will provide 4 servings. You'll find that the barley together with the tomatoes, marjoram and onion adds the needed touch of flavor and color to this casserole creation.

As you may or may not know, all lamb cuts are considered tender and may be prepared by dry heat methods of meat cookery. For variety, however, they may be braised or baked.

St. Matthew's Opens Mission Service Today

A teaching, reading and preaching mission will be held at St. Matthew's United Church of Christ at Bowling Green beginning today and continuing through October 28.

Rev. Richard W. Barley, pastor, said the mission is being sponsored in conjunction with other United Churches of the Pittsburgh Synod.

Rev. Mr. Barley said the mission will consist of lay visitation in the community, evening services, as well as a mass rally to be held at Frostburg State Teacher's College Auditorium on Sunday October 23 at 8 p. m.

The guest missioner for the program will be Rev. J. Richard Glatfelter of New Cumberland, Pa., who will instruct the lay visitors, preach at the services during the Mission beginning with the Sunday morning service, and meet with the workers in the church program.

Rev. Mr. Glatfelter is a native of York, Pa., and was graduated from Franklin and Marshall College in 1948. He received his B.D. degree from Lancaster Theological Seminary in 1951, and upon graduation from the Seminary served as pastor of the Ardmore Union United Church of Christ in Landover, Md.

In 1954 he accepted the challenge of the Board of National Missions to organize a new church in the New Cumberland area. In 1955 he organized Faith United Church of Christ which he is now serving.

Rev. Mr. Glatfelter has served as chairman of the committee on Evangelism in Mercersburg Synod; representative of Mercersburg Synod to the Division of Evangelism of the Pennsylvania State Council of Churches; and is the instructor and counsellor for United Church of Christ confirmands at the State Correctional Institution for male juveniles at Camp Hill, Pa.

The preaching services during the mission will be held Monday, October 24 through Thursday, October 27 at 8 p. m. The topics will be: "Forgiveness—The Heart of the Gospel, Saved," "From What and For What?" "Saved: How?" and "The Joy of Commitment:" "Each Man's Greatest Commandment."

The church choir will present music at each of the services.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	4 ♠	Pass
6 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Ace of ♥

Bold bidding and thoughtful play brought South a handsome reward in today's hand.

North's bid of four spades is accepted modern practice. In situations of this character one should try to preempt to the limit. From the make-up of North's holding, it is apparent that, if South cannot make four spades, East and West have a sure game and perhaps even a slam. It is difficult to appraise the merits of South's slam bid, but if North produced a sufficiently freakish hand there might be a reasonable chance for the slam.

Declarer ruffed the opening heart lead, drew the outstanding trumps in one round, and cleared both hands of the red suits, ruffing hearts in his own hand and diamonds in dummy. A club was then led from the North. Had East played the three, declarer could have assured fulfilment by passing the trick to the West hand. West would have had no safe exit, for the lead of a red card would permit the discard of a club out of dummy while declarer ruffed. However, East, on the alert, played the nine of clubs and declarer was called upon to engage in a little thought. The finesse of the queen was not an inviting play and could be postponed for one round.

Declarer considered various possibilities. If the nine of clubs were singleton, South could permit him to hold the trick and East would have to make a favorable lead. If the nine of clubs were accompanied by the trey, declarer could duck and force West to win the trick. Declarer decided, therefore, to play low and was gratified to see the trick fall to West's ten.

Lions Club In Hardy Co. Hears Talk On Tourism

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—Charles Achenbom, senior at West Virginia Wesleyan College, spoke to the Moorefield Lions Club Monday night on the formation of a 15-county tourist promotion bureau. Achenbom has made a study of the area as being the best suited in the east to promote tourism. He pointed out that the South Branch area, the Allegheny area and the mountains and valleys are the most scenic in the east and within a days drive of half the country's population. Achenbom emphasized that the area is comparatively unknown and could easily be developed with proper promotion. He suggested a series of information booths to give out literature and brochures directing tourists to the attractions of the area. He pointed out that most tourists passed through the area without stopping whereas they could easily be persuaded to spend some time.

He said that only a cooperative effort by all the people in the area would accomplish this and that if they worked together the potential is unlimited. He stated the only shortcoming is the lack of water in the form of lakes for recreational purposes but went on to say that this condition is being remedied. He noted that accommodations would be built for tourists when the traffic starts.

The Lions Club voted to support the plan and tentatively pledged $500 towards the $10,000 goal. The club also voted to send representatives with Achenbom to the other civic and business clubs in the 15-county area to assist starting the campaign.

In the business session of the club at Hotel McNeill, Roy Hamilton, president of the group, announced that District Governor William J. Loy, Elkins, would make an official visit to the club on November 21.

Chairman of the broom sale committee, Clyde Grimes, reports 22 dozen light brooms and 2 dozen heavy brooms were sold.

The Annual Halloween parade for children will be held Friday night, October 28 in connection with the Annual PTA Halloween Festival. The parade will start at 7:30 and the Festival at 8:30 at the Graded School. The Moorefield High School Boosters Club will hold a pancake supper the same evening starting at five in the afternoon at the high school.

The report was made that the Valley TV Cooperative had received the construction permit from the FCC and that the translator station would be in operation within three weeks. The civic club was one of the sponsors of the Valley TV Cooperative.

Ralph Bean reported that the Hardy Telephone Company, an REA financed county wide telephone system, had grown from 290 subscribers to 630 subscribers and that expansion plans are underway to extend service to the Bergton and Broadway, Virginia areas. Bean said that all payments on the government loan are up to date and the interest is paid. The company is self sustaining. The Hardy Telephone Company was also sponsored by the Moorefield Lions Club when it started.

Frostburg GOP Women's Club Gets Charter

FROSTBURG — The Frostburg Republican Womens Club met a recent evening in the American Legion home with Miss Katherine W. Close, presiding. Miss Close reported on the meeting of the State Federation of Republican Womens Clubs held in Baltimore last week. At that time, a charter was presented to the Frostburg club by Mrs. William Allen, chairman of the Sixth District. Dr. Elizabeth Houser, a leading member of the Nixon Committee of Washington, D. C. was main speaker. Mrs. J. Glenn Beall and Mrs. Noel S. Cook also attended.

It was voted for the local club to meet regularly on the third Wednesday of each month with the next meeting on November 16.

Beginning today, Republican headquarters will be maintained on the second floor of the Hotel Gunter and members were asked to volunteer their services. The hours will be from 1 to 4 p. m. beginning November 3 with headquarters being open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Two flags, one national and one state were displayed at this meeting being donated to the club by Senator J. Glenn Beall.

Following the business meeting, J. Glenn Beall Jr., Allegany County Republican State Central Committee chairman was introduced. He discussed the amendments which are to be voted upon in November and then introduced Charles Mathias who was the principal speaker. Mr. Mathias is the Republican candidate running for election to Congress from Maryland's Sixth District.

Refreshments were served after the meeting adjourned by Mrs. John Ives, Mrs. George Hale and their committee.

John C. Breckinridge was only 35 years old when he was elected vice president of the United States in 1856.

Moorefield UHF Channels Are Designated By FCC

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—Telephone calls from the office of Congressman Harley O. Staggers and from the office of Senator Jennings Randolph announced the granting of a construction permit by the Federal Communications Commission to Valley TV Cooperative to erect translators for channels 70 and 80 on UHF. The action was taken by the commission last Wednesday.

The board of directors of the non-profit cooperative met this week to confirm the purchase of the two translators from Adler Electronics and the equipment will be here within two weeks. Only five days will be required to get the television broadcast translator station in operation.

After the equipment is installed and ready for operation the station will have to be licensed by the FCC. The granting of the construction permit has been held up nearly a year due to the objection of both the Navy and the National Science Foundation as possibly interfering with the radio astronomy devices at Sugar Grove and at Green Bank. Exhaustive tests by the Navy resulted in a transmitter site just below the lip of the mountain and below the receiving antennas on top of Branch Mountain. The Navy has agreed to make an installation free if the recommended changes do not work free of interference at the Sugar Grove device.

Charles Kuykendall, manager of the TV cooperative, reported that slightly more than one fourth of the funds have been raised and that citizens who have pledged the $50 for membership are urgently requested to get the balance of their pledges in. New memberships will be solicited at this time. It will require nearly $10,000 for the complete installation and more than $2,500 has been raised.

Memberships will be received at Kuykendall's Radio and TV Service, at Lang's Pharmacy, at the Moorefield Examiner or Boyd McWhorter and Oscar Bean.

Westernport Council Okays Road Proposal

WESTERNPORT — Westernport Town Council will take over the proposed road located in the rear of Jake's Service Station up the hillside to Greene's Addition when it is completed, according to a letter ordered sent to Ormal Hoover, president of the Tri-Towns Lions Club, Wednesday Evening.

The club is acting as a collection agency to receive public donations for the road and the letter signed by Mayor Ray L. Wilt, stated—

"We appreciate very much your interest in the construction of a road from Main Street Extended up the ravine to Central Avenue, in Greene's Addition, and your request for information as to the feelings and intent of the Mayor and Commissioners of Westernport.

"We believe this road would be a decided improvement to the town and would be of great benefit, not only to those citizens who reside in the Greene's Addition section, but to all of us it would be very useful in going to and coming from that section of our town.

"While we are very much in favor of the construction of this road we do not think we should burden our citizens with the entire costs of construction, at this time, due to the many financial committments the town now has, and its limited income.

"If interested citizens will engineer the road in accordance with accepted engineering practices, and have grading and filling done and proper and adequate drainage or surface waters provided for, and lay a six-inch course of crusher run grade material, properly rolled, the Mayor and Commissioners will be glad to acquire at that time the necessary rights of way to take over the road and be responsible for its maintenance."

President Hoover of the Lions Club, a number of members of the club and Marshall Wilson and other persons interested in the building of the road met with Mayor Ray L. Wilt and town commissioners recently in a special meeting at the council chamber.

A new cruiser for the Police Department was ordered from Ritter Motors of Keyser. The price of the eight cylinder Dodge Dart, including the trade-in is $1,161.68 which was the lowest bid for an eight cylinder car. It is to be delivered in 30 days.

Bids were also received from Greene's Garage, Frostburg; Ray Teets, Oakland; Cumberland Lincoln-Mercury of LaVale and Jake's Service Station, Westernport.

Secretaries Name Luke 'Boss Of The Year'

John A. Luke, manager of the fine papers division of West Virginia Pulp and Paper, Wednesday was selected Boss of the Year by Algonquin Chapter, National Secretaries Association.

Luke received the honor from the chapter through his secretary, Mrs. Virginia Hoffa, at the annual boss' night dinner at the Cumberland Country Club.

Members and guests were greeted by the chapter's president, Miss Ellen Newnam.

The invocation was given by Rev. Robert F. Hopkins, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church and toastmaster was Charles S. Catherman Jr., honorary member of the chapter.

The speaker was George W. Fogg, director of personnel at the University of Maryland, on "Service," using the theme of the NSA, "The vocation of every man and woman is to serve other people."

He said the real struggle today is "between ourselves and the future. "Historians," he said, "say we are at another turning point of history, an age of great opportunity, and intellectual and social change.

"Service is an attitude. It is doing what is needed, when it is needed because it is needed regardless of the reward."

"Service is to help the weak when we are strong. Any kind of service is work, and the satisfaction of giving of ourselves is not what we receive for giving service, but how others benefit from our service," he continued.

He pointed out the example of Cumberland's Roman Catholic Bishop James E. Walsh, who is imprisoned in Red China for his service to his fellow man.

The program was closed by the benediction by Father Hopkins after Luke received the Boss of the Year crown from his secretary.

Autumn harvest was the theme for decorations and fall colors were used in the table centerpieces.

The social committee under the direction of Miss Angela Long and Miss Martha Rogan, were in charge of arrangements.

Others on the committee were Mrs. Betty Bujac, Miss Kay Mullaney, Miss Patricia Golden, Mrs. Joy Paupe, Miss Geraldine Collins, Miss Kathleen Helker and Miss Margaret Lester.

City Police Rate High In Basic Course

Cumberland Police Department personnel attending a State Police training school at Pikesville have received a commendation from Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming for the outstanding record attained.

Fleming said those participating in the supervisory section of the training school had an average grade of 90.44 with the highest 95.50 while the average for those in the basic course was 90.72 with the highest 97.75.

Passing grade is 70.

Participating in the supervisory course were Officers Charles E. Cubbage, R. L. Gilpin, E. G. Hite and W. E. Shank.

In the basic course were C. W. Bennett, J. W. Bohn, D. L. Davis, J. E. Morris, W. A. Norris, G. E. Pfeiffer, J. A. Swann, W. G. Brehm, R. J. Clayton, O. L. Cook, J. F. Harvey, H. L. Iser and Joseph Nelson.

Fleming said the course was conducted the past three weeks with Major M. M. Punche, chief trainer, Personnel Division of the Maryland State Police, in charge.

Fleming lauded the value of the school to local police officers and said his department will be represented at all such courses. The next is scheduled in the spring.

Two Cases Set Today In Court Here

Two criminal cases are scheduled to be tried in Allegany County Circuit Court today with the first beginning at 10 a. m. before Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Judge Harris and Assistant State's Attorney Donald W. Mason conferred yesterday and set the two cases today.

The case of Michael R. Bowman, Piedmont, who has been indicted for embezzlement of approximately $600 from McIntyre Bakery of Westernport, will be heard next week by a jury.

An appeal from a year's jail sentence imposed in Trial Magistrates Court on John Henry Hilmer, Windber, Pa., on two counts of false pretenses will be heard.

On October 10 Magistrate Paul W. Barnett in the lower court here gave Bowman six months for each of two counts, one check was for $35 and the other for $65, Mason said.

The second will be an appeal from an indeterminate sentence handed a 15-year-old local boy in Juvenile Court for the theft of a truck owned by the McGreevy Transportation Company.

John Sullivan was appointed by Judge Harris as attorney for Bowman and the 15-year-old boy while Noel Speir Cook was named counsel for Hilmer.

Rev. Snyder Heads Group

The Cumberland Ministerial Association has named Rev. Jacob Snyder, pastor of Kingsley Methodist Church, as its president succeeding Rev. Dr. E. E. Miller, pastor of First E. U. B. Church.

Other officers named at the election meeting held at Central YMCA are: Rev. Russell L. Fink, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, vice president; and Rev. George Hazen, pastor of Zion United Church of Christ, secretary-treasurer.

Two directors named for the coming year are Dr. Miller and Rev. Emil Teyssier, of First Presbyterian Church.

Following the business meeting, luncheon was served and a program describing the work of a chaplain with the U. S. armed forces in Greenland presented by Rev. E. M. Goetschius of Frostburg.

CASEY'S SUCCESSOR LIGHTS UP—Ralph Houk,right, former third string catcher of the Yankees with only minor league managerial experience, gets light from Yankee co-owner Dan Topping at press conference in New York yesterday. Topping announced that the 41-year-old Houk is the club's new field manager to succeed Casey Stengel. Houk signed for a reported $35,000 a year, less than half the $85,000 paid to Stengel. At his own request, the contract was limited to one year. (AP Photofax)

Camper-Frederick Game Next Week Is Changed To Night

Allegany High School's football game at Frederick, Friday, October 28, has been changed from 2 p. m., to 8 p. m., it was announced last night by Coach Edward Schwarz of the Campers.

The game originally was set for the afternoon because it was thought the new stadium would be ready by that date. Seats will not be installed at the new stadium by October 28 so the game has been shifted to the baseball park and will be played under the lights.

Schwarz stated that the Beall at Allegany game, Saturday, November 12, will be played at the local stadium at 1:30 p. m., instead of at night.

The Allegany coach stated that this change was made because it is cold at night and it was felt more people would turn out for the game when staged in the afternoon.

Allegany's game at Westminster, Friday, November 4, will be at 8:30 p. m., and not at 8 o'clock as most other night games.

ABC Officer Dies

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—William S. Gray, 65, Glendale, Mo., vice president of the American Bowling Congress, died in his hotel room here Thursday.

Investigator Sam Moran of the coroner's office said Gray complained of chest pains to his wife when he awoke. Mrs. Gray called a doctor who pronounced Gray dead.

Ralph Served As Coach For Three Years

Salary $32,500; Bauer May Return As New York Coach

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI) — Battle-hardened Ralph Houk, making it plain he is "nobody's yes man," succeeded Casey Stengel as manager of the New York Yankees Thursday with old Casey's complete blessings and a one-year contract for $32,500.

"The Yankees got themselves a mighty fine man," said Stengel, who was fired only 48 hours previously. "I know he'll do a great job for them and I wish him all the luck in the world."

The 41-year-old Houk, who worked his way up from private to major in the rough-and-ready Rangers of World War II, emphasized that the one-year contract was his own idea.

"I asked for it," he said, "because at the end of one year I want the Yankees to feel free to do as they please if they don't think I did a good job."

Yankee co-owner Dan Topping, who announced Houk's hiring in the same hotel where he also made public Stengel's departure, pledged that the new manager would have a free hand.

"I wish to make it plain there will be no interference from the front office," Topping said.

Coached Three Years

Houk, who never rose higher in the big leagues than a third-string catcher and who served as coach under Stengel the past three years, left no doubt at all about Topping's statement.

"In no shape or form am I going to be a yes man," he said. "I don't think I was hired for that purpose. Certainly I'll work with my front office, but at the time is anyone going to tell me how to run the club on the field."

Houk's contract calls for $2,500 more than the first one Stengel signed when he took over as manager of the Yankees in 1949, but is a far cry from the $85,000 a year Casey received during the past two seasons with the club.

Houk, his ever-present cigar in his left hand, said he realized he was stepping "into mighty big shoes" and that he realized he would be a prime target for all the second-guessers.

"But I don't fear it," he said bluntly. "I realize there will be pressure on me, but this is a goal I've been shooting for all my life. I've been around Casey quite awhile and I feel I've learned a great deal from him."

Houk, who said he was first notified he would be the new manager last Saturday—the same day the Yankee owners came to their decision on Casey—touched on his previous managerial experience with the Yankees' Denver club in the American Association from 1955 to 1957 and felt it would benefit him now.

Doesn't Plan Platooning

"I had many of the present Yankee players with me at Denver," he said. "Fellows like Bobby Richardson, Tony Kubek, John Blanchard, Ryne Duren and Ralph Terry. I know what they can do, as well as what the rest of the players can do. I don't agree with those who are going around saying the Yankees have a 'dead team.' I think we have the nucleus of a good ball club.

"I don't anticipate making many changes," he added. "When you win a pennant you don't usually make many.

"As for platooning, I don't consider myself a platoon manager. But I don't plan to play a set lineup every day, either. If I have to platoon, I'll platoon. I intend to make all the decision as who is who is to play on the field. I'll handle the pitching rotation on the club and will be in close touch with my coaches."

Houk, who had coached at first base under Stengel, said he intended to be strictly "a bench manager." He also indicated there would be changes in the Yankee coaching staff.

Bauer May Return

Frank Crosetti is expected to remain and it was learned that ex-Yankee Hank Bauer, now with the Kansas City Athletics, might return to become one of Houk's coaches.

Archie In Rome

ROME (AP) — Archie Moore, world light-heavyweight champion, arrived Thursday by plane for a non-title boxing match with Italy's Guilio Rinaldi on Oct. 29 in the Olympic Sport Palace.

INDOOR SPORT

NEW YORK (UPI)—The first indoor football game in history was played Dec. 28, 1902, in the old Madison Square Garden. Syracuse, with Glenn (Pop) Warner at guard, defeated the Philadelphia Nationals, 6-0, before 3,000 fans.

During the recent World Series games in Pittsburgh, Yankee co-owners Dan Topping and Del Webb lived in a private railroad car in the Steel City.

Sluggers Hank Aaron (126) and Ed Mathews (124) of the Milwaukee Braves drove home 250 runs last season. Aaron hit 40 homers, Mathews 39.

BROWNS PICKED TO BEAT EAGLES BY TEN POINTS

Colts, Steelers Favored To Win

By JOE SARGIS
United Press International

The Cleveland Browns put professional football's only perfect record on the line Sunday against the high - scoring Philadelphia Eagles, and are 10-point favorites to wind up with their fourth straight victory.

Cleveland, which has beaten the Eagles, Pittsburgh and Dallas in that order, has not lost to Philadelphia since the 1957 season. Included in the streak is a decisive, 41-24, beating in this year's season opener.

The Eagles, who have beaten three other opponents since that loss to the Browns, are the second highest scoring team in the National Football League's Eastern Division and the third highest in the league. Cleveland has scored 117 points, Baltimore 114 and the Eagles 110.

With Norm Van Brocklin pitching to speedy Tommy McDonald, the Eagles never are more than a play away from a touchdown. However, the Browns have an equally dangerous pair in fullback Jimmy Brown and scatback Bobby Mitchell.

Steelers Are Picked

The Steelers are picked by four points over the Washington Redskins, the St. Louis Cardinals by 10 over the Cowboys, the Baltimore Colts by 14 over the Detroit Lions, the Green Bay Packers by 9½ over the San Francisco Forty-Niners and the Chicago Bears by 6 over the Los Angeles Rams in other NFL games.

Home teams this week are Cleveland, Washington, St. Louis, Detroit, Green Bay and Los Angeles. The New York Giants will be idle because of the 13-team setup this season.

In the American Football League, the New York Titans host the Houston Oilers with first place in the Eastern Division at stake, the Boston Patriots (2-3) play the Broncos (3-2) at Denver and the Oakland Raiders (3-3) invade Buffalo against the hapless Bills (1-4). The Titans, who have won four of six games, are picked over the oilers 4-1.

Colts Tied For Lead

The Colts, who have beaten the Lions four straight times, are tied for first place in the N.F.L.'s Western Division with three victories in four starts. The Lions, on the other hand, have yet to win this season, losing to Green Bay, San Francisco and Philadelphia.

Sigel Cops Title

Dave Sigel won the championship of the second flight in the fall golf tournament at the Cumberland Country Club Wednesday by defeating Bert Mason, 6 and 2.

DU PONT Telar NEVER DRAIN

Du Pont announces the first and only
NEVER DRAIN ANTI-FREEZE & SUMMER COOLANT
Telar
TRADEMARK

Contains patented Color Check to watch your cooling system for you!

Nobody wants to drain anti-freeze—and with Du Pont "Telar" you no longer have to!

"Telar" is the first and only anti-freeze you can safely leave in as long as your car's cooling system is mechanically okay. "Telar" is a summer coolant, too. And it contains patented Color Check to watch your cooling system for you.

Aren't there other anti-freezes you don't have to drain? None! Manufacturers of all other anti-freezes recommend draining.

Why doesn't "Telar" need draining? "Telar" is a patented new formula exclusive with Du Pont. It stands up and stays fresh where others break down. When mixed with ordinary water, it rust-proofs every engine metal—even the new aluminum alloys—with a chemical armor. This chemical armor is not just a film that can wear off; it becomes part of the metal surface, preventing rust from forming.

How does "Telar" maintain cooling in summer? "Telar" has a higher boiling point than water. "Telar" prevents rust clogging, chief cause of engine overheating; it keeps the cooling system clean and free flowing. It's ideal for cars with air conditioning.

What is Color Check? It's an exclusive feature of "Telar". If mechanical cooling system failure contaminates the solution of "Telar", Color Check tells you so by changing the solution's color from red to yellow. It is the only time you drain and replace "Telar". In Du Pont's five years of tests this rarely happened.

What about cost? "Telar" saves you money. You add it to ordinary water. And it goes in for keeps, not just for one year.

Only $7.00 to $9.00 worth of "Telar" protects most cars completely...
Only $3.00 to $5.00 for compact cars

Dewitt Quits Detroit Post

John E. Fetzer Named President

By JERRY GREEN

DETROIT (AP) — Bill Dewitt's turbulent reign of less than one year as Detroit president ended Thursday with his resignation under fire from the post that paid him $50,000 a year.

The latest in a series of shakeups in the Tiger front office was expected.

Dewitt, who had two years left on a three-year contract signed only last Nov. 1, was criticized in recent weeks by some Tiger owners.

John E. Fetzer, a Kalamazoo, Mich., radio-television executive, replaced Dewitt and became the fourth Tiger president since 1956. Fetzer, who had headed a group owning one-third of the club's stock, purchased control of the Tigers just last week.

Dewitt, in resigning with an "amicable settlement," turned down Fetzer's offer to become assistant to the president.

Harry Sisson, executive vice president, was given general charge of the club's affairs. Sisson has been associated with the Tigers since 1935 when the late Walter O. Briggs, then a club owner, brought him in to handle negotiations with co-owner Frank Navin.

Sisson said he would do the work done normally by a general manager, a post also held by Dewitt.

Dewitt received a free hand in running the club's affairs when the Tigers' 11 owners hired him. A veteran baseball man, in contrast with the businessmen owners, Dewitt made wholesale changes on the field as well as in the front office.

Two managers departed—both blasts at Dewitt—in the hectic year of his control. But it was Joe Gordon's surprise resignation as manager—just two months after he took over—that started Dewitt's downfall.

Sullivan, Coughtry Are Sold By Bosox

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Red Sox Thursday moved eight young farm hands up to their major league roster to protect them in the annual baseball draft.

They are pitchers Wilbur Wood of Belmont; Bob Carlson of Redondo Beach, Calif.; Darrell Massey of New Orleans; Fred Newman of Brookline; Hal Kolstad of San Jose, Calif.; and Bob Heffner of Allentown, Pa.; shortstop Jim Fregosi of Woodside, Calif., and outfielder Paul Jernigan of Los Angeles.

The Red Sox also announced the outright sale of catcher Haywood Sullivan and infielder Marlan Coughtry to Seattle of the Pacific Coast League and the placing of outfielder Ted Williams on the voluntary retired list.

Two Terp Linemen Out With Injuries

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Only two regulars will be missing from the 40-man traveling squad when the University of Maryland football team flies to North Carolina Friday for its Saturday night game with Wake Forest at Winston-Salem.

The Terps are expected to land at Greensboro airport at 12 A.M. Coach Tom Nugent said he will hold a night practice session at Greensboro Senior High School.

The players missing from the squad will be guard Tom Broumel and tackle Dick Barlund, both because of injuries.

The Terps held a light workout Thursday without pads on a muddy field.

Undefeated Beall, Bruce Meet Today

Bulldogs' Goal Uncrossed; Beall Leads In Scoring

Bruce and Beall, the oldest members of the five schools now represented in the Western Maryland Interscholastic Soccer League, will tangle today at 3:30 p. m., in Westernport in the "Battle for First Place" as the 1960 campaign reaches the halfway mark.

Both schools are undefeated to date and both will be angling for their fourth win of the season.

Bruce, coached by Leonard Ritchie, who makes his home in Frostburg, boasts an uncrossed goal line and will be facing the highest scoring team in the league. The Bulldogs have scored ten points while blanking the opposition. Beall, coached by "Ebbie" Finzel for 25 years, has rolled up 15 points in three games while limiting the opposition to five tallies and has the league's top point-maker in Jim Duncan, who has racked up a total of 11 markers.

In games played to date, Bruce has beaten Valley, 2-0, Mt. Savage 5-0 and Flintstone 3-0, while the Mountaineers have disposed of Flintstone, 4-2, Mt. Savage, 3-0 and Valley 8-3.

Bob Kirk and Clifton Van Roby will officiate in this important battle.

Mt. Savage will be the scene of the second league game on tap for today. There, John Thomas' Mt. Savage Indians will do battle with the Flintstone Aggies. Neither team has crashed the win column to date. Mt. Savage is 0-2-1 while Flintstone has dropped three in a row.

John Frank and Ray Ralston will officiate in this contest.

Rams' Walter Barr Leads In Passing

BECKLEY, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia Conference lead in three departments — total offense, rushing and scoring — belongs to Bluefield State star Claude Watts.

Watts has 485 yards, including 475 rushing. He has scored 38 points, two more than Glenville's Emmett Wilson.

Walter Barr of Shepherd leads in passing with 306 yards on 21 completions in 57 attempts.

Three Orioles, Yanks Land All-Star Berths

Robinson Is Top Vote Getter; Earl Battey Is Honored

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Yankees and Baltimore Orioles placed three players each on the 1960 American League All-Star team named Thursday by the United Press International.

First baseman Bill Skowron and slugging outfielders Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris were the Yankees honored while shortstop Ron Hansen, third baseman Brooks Robinson and pitcher Chuck Estrada were the Orioles chosen.

In addition, the UPI's 24 - man board of AL experts selected catcher Earl Battey of the Washington Senators, second baseman Nelson Fox and outfielder Minnie Minoso of the Chicago White Sox and pitcher Jim Perry of the Cleveland Indians to the squad of eight regulars and two pitchers.

Robinson Leads Voting

Robinson, 23-year old Oriole third baseman who hit .294 in 152 games, led the vote by being named on 23 of the 24 ballots. The other vote for third base went to the Senators' Harmon Killebrew, who hit .276 with 30 homers and 80 runs batted in.

Skowron, Mantle and Maris swung the most dangerous bats for the Yankees in their drive to a 10th pennant in 12 years.

Skowron batted .309, hit 26 homers and drove in 91 runs; Mantle batted .276 with 40 homers and 94 runs batted in and Maris hit .283 with 39 homers and 112 runs batted in.

Hansen and Estrada were two of the biggest surprises in the Orioles' spectacular rise as a pennant contender. Hansen, who played for Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League in 1959, fielded brilliantly and batted .255 with 22 homers and 86 runs batted in. Estrada, a fireballing rookie righthander, compiled an 18-11 record that tied him for the honor of being the league's biggest winner, struck out 142 batters and had a 3.57 earned run average.

Battey was recognized for his tremendous contributions to the rise of the Senators from eighth to fifth place. A workhorse, who appeared in 137 games, Battey batted .270, hit 15 homers and drove in 60 runs.

Fox Edges Runnels

Fox fell off from his brilliant 1959 season after which he was named the league's Most Valuable Player but won out in a close 13-11 vote over AL batting champion Pete Runnels of the Boston Red Sox. Fox hit .289 to Runnels' .320 but drove in more runs, 59 to 35. Each hit two homers. Minoso, possibly the most consistent hitter in the league, batted .311, hit 20 homers and knocked in 105 runs.

Perry, 24, pitched in 41 games and 261 innings for the Indians, compiling an 18-10 record and 3.62 earned run average.

HAWK HEADLINER—An orphan who led the Boystown team to its first undefeated season in 1957, Wilburn Hollis now leads the Iowa Hawkeyes to what may be the national championship. Hollis, a junior, here bones up on Spanish lessons by listening and repeating taped exercises at Iowa City.

College Grid Season Reaches Halfway Mark

Seven Of Nation's Top 10 Major Teams Unbeaten Or Untied

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

College football reaches the halfway mark in the 1960 season on Saturday, with only seven of the nation's top 10 major teams still undefeated or untied. The battle for national honors is far from over, and uneasy is the position of this week's No. 1 club, the Hawkeyes of Iowa.

Iowa, co-leader in the Big Ten with Minnesota, entertains tough Purdue, the No. 10 team in this week's Associated Press poll. Purdue has a 2-1-1 record, after racking up Ohio State last week 24-21.

Iowa became No. 1 this week, by a hair over Mississippi, which had taken Tulane 26-13. Mississippi tackles rugged Arkansas in a night game at Little Rock.

The other five unbeatens in the top ten—in order—have these parings: Syracuse at West Virginia, Navy at Pennsylvania, Missouri at home with Iowa State, Minnesota at Michigan, and Baylor, at home against Texas A&M.

Washington, No. 8, meets Oregon State in the Far West's big game at Portland, while No. 9 Ohio State and Wisconsin tangle in State's homecoming fracas at Columbus.

Saturday's national TV game (ABC-1:15 p.m. EST) brings together Notre Dame at Northwestern, each with 1-3 records. Both teams opened the season with victories. But that's all on the credit ledger.

West Virginia Has 63 Hunting Mishaps

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The State Conservation Commission reported Thursday that 63 hunting accidents, five of them fatal, had occurred this month although West Virginia's hunting season is but three weeks old.

The commission predicted earlier that between 18-20 deaths and 70-80 woundings would be recorded in the Mountain State in hunting accidents before the season ends Feb. 1.

The commission reminded hunters to wear colored clothing since many of the woundings occur because the victim is mistaken for game.

LaSalle To Test Unbeaten Allegany Gridders Tonight

Jackets Face Beall Eleven In Frostburg

Southern To Host Keyser; Pioneers Battle Petersburg

Coach Ed Schwarz's undefeated Allegany High School Campers will be angling for win No. 6 when they face LaSalle High School's Explorers, their traditional rivals, in the second intra-city game of the season tonight at 8 o'clock at the Greenway Avenue bowl.

This series had its inception in 1928 when LaSalle made its football debut and tonight will mark the thirty-second meeting of these schools on the gridiron. The Campers lead in victories, 20 to 9. Two games ended in ties.

In recent years LaSalle has done very well in the engagements with its crosstown rival and has split even in the last eight games with the Campers but the Campobello eleven appears too powerful for the current Explorer team and figures to take this one.

Campers Get 176 Points

Allegany has rolled up a total of 176 points, an average of 35 a game while holding the opposition to 40 tallies, or eight per contest in beating Altoona Catholic, North Hagerstown, Keyser, South Hagerstown and Martinsburg. In three of the games the co-champions of the CVAL and winners of the city crown in 1959 have shut out the opposition. Allegany also has the top point-maker in the tri-state area in Bob Gaffney who has chalked up 80 tallies this season.

LaSalle lost its first city game to Fort Hill, 20-0, and goes into tonight's game with a 2-3-0 record. Wins were scored over Berlin, Pa., and St. Francis of Morgantown while the last two games were reverses at the hands of Bedford and Keyser. LaSalle has made 44 points to the opposition's 65.

The game is expected to attract one of the largest crowds of the current campaign.

Jackets Visit Beall

Other Friday night games are scheduled for Oakland and Frostburg.

Keyser High School will oppose the Highlanders of Southern High School under the lights at Oakland at 7:30 EST while Beall High's Mountaineers will host the Moorefield Yellowjackets at 8 o'clock. Both are Potomac Valley Conference games.

Southern will be striving to spill Keyser for the first time as they tangle in the sixth game of their series. Beall holds a 4-3 edge in its series with Moorefield.

Beall is 2-0, Southern 2-1, Keyser 1-1 and Moorefield 1-4-1 in the PVC.

Romney Tests Vikings

The big game in nearby West Virginia today is the PVC battle between Petersburg's high flying Vikings and the Romney Pioneers. Petersburg is the scene of action.

Wayne Barr's Vikings own an overall record of 4-0-1 and they're setting the pace in the conference with a 4-0 mark with victories over Moorefield, Franklin, Ridgeley and Circleville. Roger Parker's Pioneers are 3-2-1 overall and 2-1-1 in the league.

In Cumberland Valley Athletic League action, South Hagerstown's Rebels (0-1-1) invade Frederick to tackle Jack Molesworth's Cadets who have won two and lost one in the seven-school circuit. Fort Hill and Allegany are the front-runners in this loop with 3-0 records.

Northern Invades Berlin

Carroll Bumgarner's Northern High Huskies (3-3-0) journey into Somerset county, Pa., tonight to engage Berlin - Brothersvalley High School and in other nocturnal tilts Ronnie Phillips' Charles Town Panthers meet the Bulldogs at Martinsburg, Mel Henry's North Hagerstown Hubs invade Waynesboro, Pa., and Bedford High's Bisons play host to Richland Township.

Circleville's Indians tackle Kenny Sims' Green Bank High gridders in Pocahontas county, W. Va., Boonsboro and Berkeley Springs meet for the first time on the gridiron at Berkeley Springs and Shepherdstown is at Hancock for afternoon engagements.

Play Saturday Games

Fort Hill and Ridgeley will appear in Saturday games. The Sentinels oppose Westminster's Owls at the stadium at night while the Blackhawks face the West Virginia School for the Deaf in an afternoon tilt at Romney.

Foiles Moves Again, May Be New Record

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Catcher Hank Foiles said Thursday the Detroit Tigers have shipped him to the Tigers' farm club in Denver. The deal immediately called for examination of baseball files. Foiles may have set an all-time record as the fastest moving player.

Since last December he has been assigned to six different teams: Pittsburgh, Kansas City, Pittsburgh's farm club at Columbus, O.; Cleveland, Detroit and Denver.

Lewis Groh Dies

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Lewis (Silver) Groh, 77, former professional baseball player and a brother of major leaguer Heinie Groh, died Thursday.

Lewis was infielder with Harrisburg in the Tri-State Leagues, Buffalo in the International League, and Springfield and Albany in the Eastern League. In 1919 he signed with the Philadelphia Athletics but arm trouble ended his playing career.

Braves Sign Pact With Vancouver

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—The Milwaukee Braves announced Thursday they have entered a working agreement with the Vancouver Mounties of the Pacific Coast League.

General Manager John McHale said the Braves will either operate under a working agreement with the Mounties for the 1961 season, or else will direct the Mounties under outright ownership if negotiations to buy the club succeed.

McHale said the Vancoouver club will replace Sacramento in the Milwaukee farm system. The Braves had previously announced they were not renewing relations with the Sacramento club.

BAGLEY—The family of the late Mr. Ross Bagley wish to extend their sincere appreciation to all their friends for their many expressions of sympathy in cards, letters, telegrams, floral tributes and the loan of cars.
THE FAMILY

In Memoriam

In loving memory of my dear husband Guy Miller Faulkner who passed away two years ago today, October 21, 1958.
One dear to my heart was called away
To the land where there is rest—
In life we shared our sorrows and joys
Then the time came when the Lord took you away
Life has been harder since you have gone
But doing the best I can.
The days and nights are so long without you—
How I would like to hear your voice and
Your footsteps once more
And press back your silver hair as I did before—
And to see you smile and be with you awhile
As I was before.
For you my love will always be as in the days
you were with me.
But some day I will be by your side again
For there is a sad and lonesome spot in my heart always.
Sadly missed by his wife, Sophia Faulkner.

Dawson WSCS Plans Anniversary

DAWSON — The Womens Society of Christian Service of Dawson Methodist Church met a recent evening at the church for the regular October meeting. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Hazel VanPelt. Mrs. Rita Kimble was in charge of devotions and the theme of the program was "Christian Citizenship." Those taking part were Mesdames Eleanor McRobie, Nellie Rexrode, Pauline Miller and Naomi Warnick. The program concluded with an informal discussion by the entire group.

The next meeting will be held the second Thursday in November, and a special anniversary program is being planned. All members are urged to attend.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(While Louella Parsons is on vacation her column will be written by Dorothy Manners.)

HOLLYWOOD — Bob Hope doesn't yet know where the State Department is routing his Christmas show. But he knows where he's going in Hollywood immediately following. On January 15th he'll be at MGM starting "Bachelor in Paradise" with George Marshall directing. Boss Sol Siegel had a private showing of Bob's comedy with Lucille Ball, "Facts of Life" and laughed himself into putting Hope to work as soon as he could get him at MGM.

Meanwhile, Bob's immediate interest is in his TV show coming up tomorrow night in which he romps through a political satire with Ginger Rogers and Perry Como.

One of the laughs: Bob playing a candidate running for president, is upset about the tax situation. He cracks indignantly, "Why should Arthur Miller and I pay the same amusement tax"?

Before Maureen O'Hara caught the plane for New York, she received an air-mailed copy of "Sodom and Gomorrah" with an offer from Joe Levine to play Lot's wife. She's tempted because it's a big part in a big picture but it means leaving the country again for a long location trip to Israel. Not long ago, Maureen, who has had her fill of travels from Ireland to Havana making her recent films, said she wanted to stay put in the good old USA for awhile.

During her New York stay, Maureen will make several TV appearances, including the Bell Telephone Hour in which she'll co-star with Rise Stevens.

The third Tennessee Williams' play in a row has been sold to MGM meaning that Sol Siegel has bought "Period of Adjustment" which opened in Philadelphia on Monday. Believe it or not, it's a comedy. Coming from Williams, who usually delves into the sordid with marked box-office overtones, a comedy is news in itself. It's about a honeymoon couple, or a couple of them, going through a period of adjustment on their honeymoon.

Although no stars are set, the pleasant tinkle of cash can be heard coming up. Particularly if it follows the pattern of "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" and "Sweet Bird of Youth," the previous Williams plays sold to MGM.

After months of saying that under no circumstances would she file suit for a divorce, Dan Rowan's wife changed her mind, and on Wednesday agreed to take legal action.

You can mark it down in your little future book that this step means that Dan, of the comedy team of Rowan and Martin, is just that much closer to matrimony with Phyllis McGuire of the McGuire Sisters.

Nothing that has happened to her in years pleased Marlene Dietrich more than the warm reception she received in her native Germany when she returned with her nightclub act this spring. She had wondered about the day she would be received because no star worked harder during World War II for the Allied side than Marlene. She appeared at camps everywhere the U.S., British and French asked her to.

I mention this because it may influence her decision to accept a good role offered her by Stanley Kramer in "Judgement at Nurenberg" with Spencer Tracy and Laurence Olivier. The picture has a long shooting schedule in Germany and a return trip should be a happy one for Marlene.

Rush For Gold Shares Features Stock Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — A mad scramble for gold stocks turned the New York Stock Exchange into a theater Thursday featuring a final curtain of unloading speculators and late tape packed with sagging prices.

The "gold rush" merry-go-round, which included every mining outfit even remotely connected with the metal, completely dominated the entire play to the virtual exclusion of the regular daily cast.

By the time erosion began setting in following a few negative pronouncements on the gold price situation, traders turned around and proceeded to whack away at the usual fare to the detriment of most sections of the list.

The final review indicated a whopping 673 stocks on the downside, 288 higher, mostly metals and minings, and 225 unchanged out of a narrow total of 1,186. New highs (golds again) totaled 18, new lows 63.

It all began in London, according to the program notes. There, gold buyers, spurred on by guess-work that the United States would soon boost the metal price above the present $35 an ounce, boosted the bidding to nearly $41 an ounce in an unprecedented influx of buying from all over Europe.

It wasn't long, however, before the story took a swift turn as the U.S. government announced a complete rejection of a possible gold price boost, another leading economist concurred, and news reached the exchange floor of cooling ardor in London.

The most active list was an unbelievable who's who in the gold mining business. No less than eight of the 15 were gold producers, including Benguet up front with 217,200 shares and ⅛ point higher at 1⅜.

Algonquin Is Name Picked For Airline

Scheduled Service Slated November 1

Algonquin Airlines was chosen yesterday as the name of the company which plans to bring scheduled air service to Cumberland and Allegany County on November 1.

John F. McShea, president, and T. J. Whalen, general manager of Montgomery Air Charter Service, Inc., chose the name for the new venture at a meeting in the offices of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

The line operates out of Gaithersburg and has been supplying air service to the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory here for some time.

Earlier yesterday, the Tourist and Convention committee met to consider entries in the name-the-district and airline contest which closed last Saturday.

There were 185 entries submitted and the committee was able to narrow the suggestions down to 15.

The name, "Algonquin Airlines" was chosen yesterday afternoon as officials of the airline met with traffic managers of Cumberland area industries to work out a schedule which would meet most needs.

Plan Schedule

The schedule is prepared by executives of the airline, and will be announced soon.

C. M. Sanner, Chamber president, said the schedule will be revised as needed to meet the needs of Cumberland area people.

Two round trips to Baltimore-Washington are planned at present.

Algonquin was the name submitted by Kenneth Berry, 221 Mary Street, and W. Nelson, 43 Virginia Avenue. They will be invited to the Chamber office for a drawing to determine the winner.

Because of the importance of establishing a name for the Cumberland area which will be suitable for a long-term project, the committee decided not to try to make a final decision at yesterday's meeting.

The committee is scheduled to meet again next week, when an attempt will be made to arrive at a decision on the descriptive name for this section of Western Maryland.

Pledges Support

The officials of the new airline venture reported they plan to use DeHaviland Doves for the Cumberland area service and that the first plane is scheduled to be delivered today.

Also attending the conference were Mayor J. Edwin Keech, for the City of Cumberland, and Robert C. Petersen, manager of the Chamber.

The traffic managers included James F. Blaney and Clarence W. Walker, Allegany Ballistics Laboratory; R. J. Bruce, Amcelle plant of Celanese Fibers Company; R. J. Bailey, Luke mill, West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, and A. N. Phillips, Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

Mayor Keech said he plans to do all he can to help the new venture succeed.

He said the area lost the chance to get a new industry recently because Cumberland had no scheduled air service.

A hearing which includes service to the Cumberland airport is before the Civil Aeronautics Board. Allegheny Airlines, which halted service here in February 1959, opposes putting Cumberland back on its schedule.

Births

Rev. and Mrs. Lynn Hinds, Columbus, N. J., announce the birth of a son there yesterday. The mother is the former Miss Carol Jean Johnson, of Pinto.

Memorial Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Giffin, Potomac Park, a daughter yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bousson A. Holsinger, McCoole, a daughter yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Foley, Green Spring, a daughter yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Wycenech, 629 Shades Lane, a son Wednesday.

Women's Club Presents Local "Great Debate"

Fire Damages Apartment In Oldtown House

Overheated Furnace Is Believed Cause

A fire apparently caused by an overheated furnace caused considerable damage to an apartment dwelling in Oldtown last night.

Oldtown Volunteer Fire Company answered the alarm at 6:05 p. m. with one truck and nine men under the direction of Capt. Leo Keyser.

Fire Chief Russell Crabtree said the blaze was discovered by Herb Shyrock, who was moving into another apartment in the building at the time. Shyrock noticed the smoke and turned in the alarm.

Firemen said they were forced to break through a door into the apartment in which James Lewis, his wife and three children reside. The Lewis family was not at home at the time, firemen stated.

The floor and joists around the furnace were badly charred and there was considerable smoke damage to the ceiling and walls of the apartment. Firemen said the dwelling became so hot that the wall thermostat and a nearby lampshade melted. Some rubber material apparently left near the furnace grating also melted and ran into the furnace causing considerable stench.

No one was injured by the fire which was brought under control quickly and confined to the living room area of the one apartment. Firemen said they returned to the station about an hour later.

The two-story brick building which contains four apartments is owned by M. R. Lewis, brother of James Lewis. Two of the apartment dwellings were empty and Mr. Shyrock was moving into the third, firemen said.

Firemen said they fought the fire using water pumped from tanks on the truck. The house was insured, they stated.

Coldest Spell Of Fall Season Predicted Here

The coldest weather of the fall season was expected during the night as the Weather Bureau predicted readings between 28 and 32 degrees for this section.

Frost also was forecast for this area as well as for some of the mountain sections of West Virginia.

Today the weather man calls for sunny and continued cool weather with the high between 55 and 60 degrees.

The weekend weather outlook calls for fair weather with temperatures to be slightly warmer.

Stephen Foster Symphony To Feature Concert Here

A full orchestra presentation of Robert Russell Bennett's "Stephen Foster Commemoration Symphony" will feature the program of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Fort Hill High School auditorium.

A second highlight of the program announced by Director William Steinberg will be a solo appearance by Bernard Goldberg, principal flutist.

The Bennett composition was commissioned by the Symphony as a feature of Pittsburgh's recent Bicentennial observance.

The Cumberland concert will open with Cherubini's overture to "Medea," followed by two Wagner selections, the Venusberg music from "Tannhaueser" and the "Ride of the Valkyries."

Mr. Goldberg will appear after the intermission, playing Mozart's "Concerto for Flute and Orchestra in G Major" and Doppler's "Hungarian Pastoral Fantasy."

Dr. Steinberg will lead the orchestra in the final number, Bennett's symphonic tribute to Stephen Collins Foster, a formal composition embodying the classic Foster contributions to American music.

Concert programming is based on consultations with a local executive committee which is presenting the Pittsburgh Symphony on behalf of the sponsor, Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company.

Community service projects of 20 Cumberland area organizations participating in ticket sales will receive the entire proceeds of the gas company concert.

A mummer's parade and a fun night celebration are two activities scheduled this month by pupils and the PTA of Cresaptown School.

The parade will be held at 1:30 p. m. Thursday, October 27, by pupils of grades one through six who will assemble at the school and proceed through town.

Those participating will be competing in a "Contest of Costumes," and the winners will be chosen by a committee of parents selected by the PTA.

Teachers of the various grades will be in charge of the parade, which will move along Sixth Avenue to Howard Street on to McMullen Highway to Braddock Road to Winchester and disband at the school.

The fun night will be held at the school on Friday, October 28 from 7 p. m. to 9:30 p. m. With a theme of "An Evening of Entertainment," the program will include movies, dancing, a stage show and a sale of articles ranging in price from a nickel to a dollar.

Walsh Declares Nixon Man Of Many Changes

Democrats Rally At Mt. Savage

"On many of the problems which face the nation today Richard Nixon takes a confused and ever-changing position," William Walsh, member of the House of Delegates, told an audience of Democratic workers and voters last night at Mt. Savage.

Speaking in the VFW home at one of several scheduled Democratic rallies in the county, Mr. Walsh noted that the Republican vice-presidential candidate "praises the Social Security laws which are on the books, and yet when as a member of Congress, he had an opportunity to vote in favor of some needed improvements in Social Security, he on four of five occasions, voted against them.

"He has often spoke in favor of Federal aid to education, but when presented with an opportunity to break a tie vote in the U.S. Senate," Mr. Walsh said, "and pass a bill favoring aid to education, he voted against it."

The speaker told his audience that, "many of Mr. Nixon's fellow Republicans cannot define his position, so it is impossible for Democrats and Independents to even try to understand his changing attitudes."

Along the same vein, F. Allan Weatherholt, a member of the Democratic State Central Committee pointed out several instances, where both Mr. Nixon and Mr. Lodge have changed their views and positions, depending upon the area in which they were at the time, or the type of audience to which they spoke.

Speaking in behalf of the candidacy of John R. Foley, Democratic candidate for Congress, Mr. Weatherholt noted that Mr. Foley was successful in his first two-year term of getting 12 major bills through Congress. By contrast, he said, his Republican predecessor has a record of eight bills in six years.

The speaker described Mr. Foley as "a man who works 10 to 14 hours a day and six days a week in the interest of his district and nation, and that he has favored all the legislation of interest to working people. He made special reference to the Area Redevelopment bills which Foley supported and Eisenhower vetoed, and also to Foley's stand on an improved program of medical aid to the aged.

Leslie J. Clark, attorney to the county commissioners, spoke on party organization and the plans for organization at the polling places. He also urged support of the Kennedy for President Club in Allegany County.

Mr. Clark told his listeners that

Local Debaters Disagree On U.S. Prestige

Beall And Finan Share Platform

Cumberland had its own "Great Debate" last night as two prominent Allegany County men who are personal friends disagreed sharply on the state of American prestige in the world and which party has the best qualified men to lead the nation during the difficult days lying ahead.

Participants in the discussion last night attended by members of the Women's Civic Club and their husbands were J. Glenn Beall Jr., Frostburg, chairman of the Allegany County Republican State Central Committee, and Thomas B. Finan, this city, who is both State and county Democratic chairman.

Each speaker was allotted 20 minutes to state the case for his candidates and Mr. Beall spoke first.

"Better Under Ike"

Mr. Beall, quoting a number of facts and figures, argued that the United States today is in much better shape than it was during the previous Democratic administration of President Harry S. Truman.

The GOP speaker said that the cost of living under President Dwight D. Eisenhower has risen only slightly compared with 48 per cent in the corresponding period under President Truman. He further contended that the gross national product had advanced 27 per cent since 1952 and wages are 39 per cent higher than when President Eisenhower entered the Whtie House.

"Republicans believe in government from the bottom up, not from the top down," Mr. Beall asserted. "We seek to create a climate for individual initiative."

Living Stability

The Republican spokesman emphasized that it is important to keep the cost of living stable so that such assets as bank deposits and life insurance policies are worth what the investor expected to realize at the time of the investment.

Mr. Beall, whose father is the United States Senator from Maryland, said that the Eisenhower administration had inherited a missile gap and space gap from the Democrats but had closed it in the past eight years. He also praised the U-2 incident as showing that the United States was not inferior to Russia.

In closing, Mr. Beall referred to Senator John F. Kennedy as an opportunist and that Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge are best qualified to lead the nation.

Mr. Finan opened with a comment about American rights as free men and an observation that these rights are being threatened today by Soviet Russia as never before.

The Democratic speaker, who is Maryland's secretary of state, pointed out that the Democratic Congress in 1958 had increased President Eisenhower's defense budget $1 billion. A Democrat, Senator Henry Jackson of Washington, introduced the legislation necessary to keep the Marine Corps strength at 200,000 men.

Frank Discussion

He criticized Mr. Nixon for what he called a "See no evil, hear no evil, speak no evil" philosophy. These are too serious times for candidates for public office not to discuss frankly the issues with the people.

Mr. Finan contended that the development of a Communist menace in Cuba, only 90 miles from Miami, and the fact that President Eisenhower could not visit Japan in safety earlier this year are evidences that the prestige of the United States is not as high as it once was.

"The Democrats are the party of courage, vision and action and the party the people call on for leadership in trying times," he continued.

No Social Bills

Maryland's secretary of state contended that Republicans have never introduced one piece of social legislation in Congress.

Keeping Peace Is Top Issue, Mason Says

Mathias Is Praised At Area GOP Rally

Keeping the peace without surrender is the overriding issue in the Presidential campaign and it cannot be met by Senator Kennedy's program of "apology, appeasement and retreat," Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney, said last night at a Republican campaign rally in Lonaconing.

His address was delivered before some 500 persons who packed the Lonaconing Republican Club hall at the rally sponsored by the Republican State Central Committee and the Lonaconing Republican Club.

Included in the standing-room-only audience was a large delegation from the Young Republican Club of Allegany County, headed by its president, Fred H. Anderson.

Mr. Mason said the Eisenhower-Nixon team has "kept the peace without surrender" in Lebanon, Quemoy, Iran, Guatemala, Suez and West Berlin, where Communist attempts at agression were halted with a firm hand.

He said Senator Kennedy's reaction to the U-2 incident and his stand on Quemoy and Matsu "indicate a policy of retreat and appeasement."

Cites Ike Action

"This type of defeatist utterances by the Truman administration, he charged "encouraged the Communist invasion of South Korea—a war in which America suffered 137,000 casualties until Eisenhower stopped it."

He said the "shotgun wedding" at the Democratic convention resulted in the mating of two men who split on 238 important votes during the past eight years.

He said a study of Senator Kennedy's voting record in the Senate at the 86th Congress shows it was "dotted with numerous gaps" and that his voting participation at roll call votes was only 24 per cent.

America, he said, cannot let an "apologizing Kennedy" and a "counterfeit Confederate" like Johnson run the country and predicted "We are going to elect — by a great majority — our experienced team of Nixon and Lodge."

Backs Mathias

Del. Lester B. Reed, minority leader of the House of Delegates, spoke for Charles McC. Mathias, who is waging a strong campaign to win the Congressional seat held by Rep. John R. Foley.

He said he highly recommended Del. Mathias on the basis of personal experience.

The GOP candidate, he said, is "highly regarded by Democrats and Republicans alike" in both houses of the Maryland Legislature.

GOP leaders said the rally was the most enthusiastic held to date.

Melvin Sloan, Lonaconing, a member of the State Central Committee, was master of ceremonies.

Mr. Mason was introduced by State's Attorney James S. Getty.

Times-News Cook School Final Session Today

Today's homemakers, like their husbands and children, are "belongers." And when you belong to organizations, there are meetings. And meetings affect the homemaker's plans for mealtime. You may be having a dinner meeting at your home, which means a special occasion meal for guests. Or you may be going to a meeting which the rest of the family is not attending—this means plans for quick and easy yet satisfying foods for the family while you are away at mealtime. There may be a pot-luck supper, or cover-dish supper, or a picnic, or you may be called upon to serve on the foods committee for a special meeting.

Taking all these things into consideration, Miss Constance Weiser and Miss Mary Metag, home economists conducting the "Fantasy of Foods" cooking school, today will present a number of interesting ideas and recipes to assist homemakers with some of the problems posed by meetings, especially "eatin' meetins' ". This will be the last of four sessions of the school which has been presented under the auspices of the Times-News. The school is being held in the Strand Theatre at 9:15 a. m.
